As They Cannot Possibly

Make any plaster having anything like the medicinal qualities of Benson's, the cheap followers of the [illegible] profession [illegible] plasters and give them names which resemble in print that of the genuine, and when carelessly spoken, sound like it. For example: the cheat John druggists will offer you trash variously styled "Capsicin," "Capsicine" or "Capsicum" plasters, or [illegible] some name with the name "Benton's" or "Bunton's." We earnestly caution the public against the whole tribe of them. They are absolutely useless as remedies for disease. To be sure they are cheap, but plain muslin is cheaper and just as efficacious. Ask for Benson's, watch the spelling and look for the "Three Seals" trademark, and the word "Capcine," which is cut in the center of the genuine.

WASHINGTON.

Discussion of the Postoffice Appropriation Bill.

VEST MAKES SOME STRONG POINTS

Some Important Measures by Dolph—"Ostler Joe" Outdone—Cleveland Sticking to His Old Habits.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—After transaction of unimportant business the senate took up the postoffice appropriation bill and Vest proceeded to speak upon the amendment appropriating $800,000 for the transportation of foreign mails. He maintained that the provision would prove destructive to the American merchant marine. It was now proposed to change the existing statute which permits competition and substitute in its place a declaration that none but American steamships shall carry mails. To-day, he said, we have but two routes upon which there are more than two lines of steamships, one from San Francisco to England and one from New York to Havana. No competition could come except upon these two lines. He cited statistics to show that in recent years we have paid four times as much to American steamships as to those of other countries for transportation of foreign mails, and yet our merchant marine and our navy had steadily dwindled away. Since [illegible] congress had appropriated $383,000,000 for navy purposes and to-day we have these old wooden hulks that would not last one half hour before one single armored vessel of second class naval power. Chili has two ships built in England which could reduce to ashes every seaport city in the United States without receiving injury. Italy also could send one vessel that could bombard our cities and destroy our navy, and it would be only amusement to the Italians.

[illegible] said the English to-day subsidized a mail line to South America to the extent of $150,000. He asked Vest how he could get the trade of South America against such odds.

Vest said he would repeal our infamous navigation laws. No other civilized nation had such laws. He would also reform the tariff and place it on a revenue basis so as not to handicap one man for the advantage of another. He believed in an honest mail service, but this amendment violated sound principles. So wedded were republicans to the protective tariff that they were unwilling to break even one link in the chain of protection, but they were compelled to acknowledge that after a long season of protection a change was indispensable. Vest read a printed notice from a socalled workingman whose name was not printed. The workingman, among other things, said that all congressmen favoring low tariff were not friends of workingmen. Vest said he would forfeit a year's salary in the senate if that alleged "workingman" did not turn out to be a man who wore a three-story silk hat, diamond studs and French boots. No doubt, too, that "workingman" boarded at the Fifth Avenue hotel, and his board was paid by the manufacturers and shipbuilders of the country who wanted the high protective tariff continued.

Eustis wished Vest had explained his idea of a "subsidy." He did not think Vest's proposition a consistent one. He (Eustis) did not see how Vest could reconcile his opposition to a subsidy with his introduction of the bill to guarantee the payment of $[illegible] to build the Eads ship railway on foreign soil. Eustis inquired whether the United States were to remain in future as in the past with speeches—undoubtedly able speeches—on the subject of free ships and free trade while our commerce with South and Central America was stationary. Must we be content to see all other nations of the earth supplying the market of those countries while we listened to speeches? Why, even Hayti, a nation born but yesterday, had closer and better commercial relations with the nations south of [the] U. S. Ships, Eustis said, were not like wagons. Notwithstanding the assertion of Mr. Beck the question of our shipping and foreign trade relations was one different from that of local manufactures. The shipping interests represented to other people of the earth, power and prestige, and the prestige of the nation. Our people believed, he added, that the trade of the countries of this continent belonged to us, and could be had with little effort. It was not a political question. The largest subsidies ever granted by the American government were granted by democratic administrations.

Miller severely criticised the postmaster general for his failure to execute the law passed by congress. There was, he said, no excuse or palliation for it.

Colquitt opposed the amendment.

Beck desired to explain the incident referred to by Pate on Friday, relating to the seventy two bags of American mail for Rio Janeiro said to have been dumped on the dock at Pernambuco. Beck said he had been told by a well informed officer of the postoffice department that the mail referred to was not sent by any ocean tramp as had been alleged, but by a ship of the Red Cross line of mail steamers which made regular trips from New York to Pernambuco and which had been regularly employed by the postoffice department for the last ten years. The mails for Rio de Janeiro had been sent regularly by that line to Pernambuco, there to connect with the Brazilian mail steamer for their destination.

After an executive session the senate adjourned.

WASHINGTON NEWS ITEMS.

MEASURES BY DOLPH AND MITCHELL.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Senator Dolph has made a thorough study of the land laws of the country and he is regarded in the senate as an authority on that subject. He has proposed the most important measures relating to land that have been brought forward this session. To-day he introduced a bill which changes the whole system of law in regard to the public domain. His bill repeals all laws providing for the pre-emption of public lands and also repeals the law allowing entries for timber culture. His bill, however, does not affect any valid rights accrued or to accrue. His new measure modifies the desert land laws so that a settler on desert lands has to irrigate it within three years after filing on it. His bill provides for the taking up of mountain land, allowing settlers 320 acres each. The bill is quite voluminous, and is the most elaborate and carefully prepared revision of the present law that has yet been presented. Dolph offered an amendment to the bill on coast defenses in the senate to-day. He proposes that the system of coast defenses recommended by the committee that was appointed by the president last year begin at once. His plan is to begin work and then appropriate money from year to year as it is needed.

Senator Mitchell presented a memorial to the senate to-day from the board of trade at The Dalles, Or., asking that a sufficient appropriation be made to complete the canal and locks at the Cascades. Senator Mitchell made some remarks when he presented the memorial in regard to the high freights charged by railroads and the great amount of freight to be moved along that waterway, and the great saving to [illegible] the construction of the canal and locks would [illegible].

Mitchell introduced a bill in the senate to-day providing for the appropriation of $[illegible],000 for the resurvey and relocation of the military wagon road from Rogue river valley to Fort Klamath, and for establishing western terminus at such point on the Oregon & California railroad as the secretary of war may select.

Delegate Voorhees, of Washington territory, has been conferring with the attorney general and officers of the land department in regard to the pending proposed prosecution of owners of small sawmills in that territory, and hopes to secure the issuance of instructions which will permanently protect that class of mill men who procure timber in limited quantities from the public domain and supply the settlers in their vicinity with lumber for domestic improvements, and who make no shipments beyond the limits of the territory. Officers of the land department state that special agents will be notified to give their attention to the larger trespassers, and that they will not be expected to report on or interfere with lumbermen of the class named.

AS EXCITING AS "OSTLER JOE."

WASHINGTON, May 3.—There is a new topic of gossip in town which for the moment is almost as exciting in some quarters as "Ostler Joe." The wife of the new California senator, having invited that eccentric person, Chaplain Milburn, to entertain company in her parlors on Wednesday last, the reverend gentleman carried out his arrangement by delivering a discourse on the poet Goethe, which was quite as remarkable as any of his very remarkable prayers. Goethe, as everybody knows, was not only a great poet and philosopher, but a very enterprising and changeable lover of women, and there are chapters in his career that are hardly adapted for example in refined circles. The Rev. Mr. Milburn, however, is said to have dwelt at length and with much freedom of expression on the great German's amatory experiences, and some of his auditors are hardly through blushing yet at the strength of the terms he used in his characterization. Mr. Milburn's discourse was fully two hours in length, and when he finished, a young lady was heard to remark: "Mother, it was too long," to which the level headed parent replied: "My dear, it was too broad."

REPORT FROM GEN. MILES.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The adjutant general has received the following from Gen. Miles, dated [illegible], Arizona, April [illegible]: "Confirmed reports from [illegible] and Nogales state that three persons were killed about ten miles north of the line. Very serious depredations have been committed south of the boundary in Sonora, many persons being killed and others driven out, coming upon the Sonora railroad to Arizona territory. Both Mexican and United States troops have been actively pursuing. One Mexican and a white man [illegible] by the Indians have been killed. As fast as possible troops are being placed where they will [illegible] the hostiles [illegible] Navajos has [illegible] been satisfactorily settled and troops [illegible] the vicinity of the threatened district. The Mexicans are reported as well disposed."

OLD HABITS IN THE [illegible]

WASHINGTON, May 3.—The president has not forgotten his old habit of [illegible] a voice in legislation [illegible] when he was governor. While occupying that office he [illegible] the legislature more vetoes than any ten of his predecessors combined, and he [illegible] reputation. He sent to the senate on Friday two, making six vetoes that he has written since he became president, and [illegible] them (the bill which provided for the disposition of pauper dead to the medical colleges of the District of Columbia) [illegible] senators who voted for it. He [illegible] the bill to make Omaha a port of entry. The [illegible] sent to congress [illegible] more vetoes than President Arthur, Hayes or Grant did during their entire terms.

EXPECTED TO BE RETAINED IN OFFICE.

NEW YORK, May 3.—A Washington correspondent of the Tribune says: The senate judiciary committee will report adversely [against] confirming John Goode as solicitor general. It is said, however, that Goode lacks [illegible] votes to secure his confirmation. Even if rejected he expects to be retained in office the same as Pillsbury and those who were rejected by the senate, [illegible] who are filling their offices in defiance of law. The president has sent [illegible] to make other nominations to these places.

GOV. SWINEFORD IN WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Gov. A. P. Swineford, of Alaska, is in the city. The primary object of his visit is to consummate an engagement of marriage between himself and a Washington lady. His confirmation as governor he says is not giving him the slightest concern. He proposes to return to Alaska and make it his future home whether he shall be confirmed or not. He regards Alaska as a country of wonderful possibilities.

TO CUT OFF COMMISSIONS.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Mr. Morrison to-day introduced in the house a bill prepared by the treasury department designed to give effect to the act of cutting off commissions of internal revenue collectors on taxes collected on distilled spirits, which the supreme court recently held did not accomplish the purpose intended.

TO SECURE ACCURATE COUNTS.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Senator Hoar, from the committee on privileges and elections, to-day reported favorably a bill instructing a commission to be appointed by the president to select an accurate ballot box and counting device which shall be used in all congressional elections.

ISSUE OF SILVER.

WASHINGTON, May [illegible].—The issue of standard silver dollars from the mints during the week ended May 1 was $381,[illegible]. The issue during the corresponding period of last year was $183,[illegible]. Shipments of fractional silver during the month of April were $[illegible].

REGARDING SILVER CERTIFICATES.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—Mr. Breckenridge, of Arkansas, to-day introduced a resolution in the house to give silver certificates a full legal tender character and providing for the issue of certificates of the denomination of $1, $2 and $5.

CALIFORNIA.

NITRO-GLYCERINE EXPLOSION.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—The nitro-glycerine house of the California powder works, containing 1,000 pounds of nitro-glycerine, exploded this afternoon, killing one white man, Andrew Anderson, and three Chinamen. This building was on the opposite side of the hill which separated the powder houses from the rest of the works. Not a fragment is left of the building in which the explosion took place, timber and parts of the machinery being thrown half a mile distant. The roof of the mixing house situated about twenty five yards distant was wrecked and two men in the building narrowly escaped. In this building there was about 4,000 pounds of nitro-glycerine, and in the magazine a few yards further east was stored 50,000 pounds of Hercules powder. Had this exploded not a house would have been left standing on the works. One of the Chinamen killed was about forty feet distant from the scene of the explosion carrying two buckets of nitro-glycerine. The concussion killed him instantly. Employes of the works refuse to speak on the probable cause of the explosion. It is believed that the two Chinamen became engaged in a quarrel and one of them dropping a bucket full of glycerine which he was carrying caused the explosion.

WILL CASE SETTLED.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—A stipulation was filed in the probate court to-day which brings the contest over the will of N. W. [illegible] to an end. The deceased, who died in November last, left an [illegible] will bequeathing all of his property, valued at $400,000, to his law partner, Robert Simson. According to the stipulation Simson relinquishes all claim to the estate upon payment to him of $[illegible],000 and the remainder goes to the [illegible] of the deceased.

MANNING'S [illegible]

SAN FRANCISCO, May [illegible].—The Post's Washington special says: It can be stated positively that Secretary Manning's resignation is now in the hands of the president. The president has several names before him in connection with this position, but has yet reached no decision in relation to any of them. The general impression here is that the next secretary of the treasury will hail from New York.

AN UNSATISFACTORY RACE.

SAN FRANCISCO, May 3.—The first ocean yacht race on this coast over a 40 mile course took place yesterday between the Aggie and the Lurline for a purse of $500. Owing to strong tides and baffling winds the yachts failed to return until past midnight and after the stipulated time, so the race was declared off. It will be sailed over again next Saturday.

INDICTMENTS DISMISSED.

U. S. District Judge Sabin to-day quashed the indictments recently found against Charles H. Beach et al., charging them with subornation of perjury in connection with extensive timber land locations in Humboldt county, on the ground that the indictments had been found on illegal testimony. The lands in question are valued at about $[illegible].

THE LABOR PROBLEM.

Serious Labor Riots at the McCormick Works.

FIVE OF THE RIOTERS WOUNDED

Attempt to Hang a Policeman—The Labors of the Curtin Committee at St. Louis Result in an Order to Strikers to Resume Work.

CHICAGO, May 3.—The Milwaukee & St. Paul road brought into the city 300 freight handlers from other points on the line of its road and put them to work in place of the strikers. The latter attempted to induce them to quit work but failed. The Burlington & Wabash also engaged a few men [illegible] work [illegible]. The strikers formed a procession and marched to several yards but were unable to entice very many of the men away. It is reported that they contemplated making a raid on the Illinois Central yards, and a squad of police was sent to intercept them. The crowd, however, reached the [illegible] the north division of the city and so far has not been guilty of any violence. The men at the stock yards struck this morning for a working day of eight hours at ten hours' pay. The Fairbanks Canning company conceded the demand, but the other houses are holding out.

CHICAGO, May 3—[illegible] P. M.—Up to this hour there have been no acts of serious trouble in any part of the city as a result of existing strikes. The situation has been one requiring unusual vigilance on the part of the city police force. Squads have been sent to several portions of the city to quell reported disturbances. The procession of striking freight handlers, after proceeding to the northern division of the city, visited the yards of the Milwaukee & St. Paul freight depots and induced a portion of the new squad of men brought in by the railroad company from outside of the city to quit. The crowd as it left the St. Paul yards numbered from 3000 to 5000 and was somewhat demonstrative. Two squads of police soon arrived on the scene and effectually scattered the crowd, allowing the new men to proceed with their work. The strikers did not attempt to seriously oppose the police. Considerable intimidation is exercised in the lumber districts and several large crowds went through the yards to prevent work.

At the railroads the freight houses are open but are only able to transact a limited amount of business.

FIVE RIOTERS WOUNDED.

CHICAGO, May 3.—Shortly after [illegible] o'clock the crowd of socialists and others had worked themselves into a frenzy and excitedly started yelling toward the McCormick reaper works, half a mile distant. The police were immediately telephoned for, and soon arrived, and drawing revolvers fired indiscriminately into the crowd. The crowd scattered in all directions, five of whom were wounded, being carried from the scene. No one was reported killed. The entire reserve force of the city's police has been ordered to preserve order in the vicinity of the trouble. The scene at McCormick's works was riotous in the extreme. By 4:25 at least 100 policemen had arrived on the ground and were coming in patrol wagons within sight. By this time the windows of the factory had been riddled with stones and bullets. Two of the wagons while on the way to the scene stopped to disperse a noisy and demonstrative crowd at the corner of Blue Island avenue and Lincoln street. The mob attacked them with stones, but the officers jumped from the wagons and by a vigorous use of clubs soon sent the rioters flying in all directions. They then turned and began driving the noisy crowds out of saloons in the neighborhood, using their clubs indiscriminately. Inside the fence of McCormick's works Officer Lafferty had a very narrow escape. A rioter who had got inside came up behind him and was pointing a pistol at his head not two feet away, when Lieut. Sheppard struck him to the earth with his club, shivering it to pieces with the vigor of the blow. At 5 o'clock the police were forming a hollow square inside of which they intended to escort McCormick's men beyond the mob's reach. Soon afterward the police escorted McCormick's men up Blue Island avenue to Twenty second street without trouble except from an occasional stone hurled from some safe hiding place. Four men were found wounded with bullets. Two of them were taken away in the patrol wagon. One was shot through the hip and one through the [illegible]. There were many badly damaged heads.

A NARROW ESCAPE.

CHICAGO, May 3.—Officer Casey nearly suffered an ignominious death at the hands of the infuriated socialists. After the great mob had been virtually dispersed Casey, with three other policemen, carried Joe Weddick, one of the wounded strikers, to his home, [illegible] West Seventeenth street. The patrol wagon was followed by an angry crowd of Bohemians who yelled loudly for revenge for the wounds of their fallen comrades, but when the wagon turned down Centre avenue to Seventeenth street the crowd did not follow. In silence it watched their countryman borne from the wagon into his house, and the officers, after laying Weddick upon his bed, left with the exception of Casey, who remained behind to get a report of the man's condition. While Casey was talking to the wounded man's wife many of Weddick's sympathizers had pressed their way into the house and the injured man was asked who shot him. Evidently misunderstanding the question, Weddick raised his hand and pointed at Officer Casey. The crowd inside the house went into frenzy. Seizing Officer Casey they dragged him out upon the sidewalk. "Lynch him!" they cried, and several of their number ran for ropes. Casey, a man of powerful frame, was like an infant hemmed in as he was by the mob. In the ensuing struggle he received fearful bruises and his clothing was nearly torn from his body. A rope was brought and one end was made fast to a lamp post directly in front of Weddick's door. At sight of the improvised scaffold the mob shrieked with delight. Casey fought with the frenzy of desperation. As the crowd pressed to the gallows he gathered all his remaining strength, and lashing head foremost from his assailants jumped into the street, followed by hundreds who at once began firing at him as he ran. As he ran, he was met by a patrol wagon full of police who, having heard the tumult, were hurrying to his assistance. Casey clambered into the wagon and fell upon the seat exhausted. The wagon was surrounded in a moment by his pursuers, but at sight of the policemen's revolvers they quickly scattered. While this was going on Casey revived sufficiently to point out among those who [illegible] one of the crowd who had been particularly officious in bringing the rope. The man was arrested and immediately driven to the station. He gave his name as Joseph Hess.

AN INCENDIARY CIRCULAR.

CHICAGO, May 4.—Eye witnesses of the struggles between police and socialists place the number of the latter who were wounded at twelve. It is not thought any were killed outright, but the rapidity with which the wounded were carried away by their friends and the secrecy maintained in regard to any connection with the affair make the facts difficult to obtain. During the evening, following circular printed in German and with an English translation appended, was distributed broadcast in many sections of the city: "Revenge! Workingmen, to arms! Your masters sent out their bloodhounds, the police, and they killed six of your brothers at McCormick's this afternoon. They killed the poor wretches because they, like you, had courage to disobey the supreme will of your bosses. They killed them because they dared ask for shortening hours. They killed them to show you, free American citizens, that you must be satisfied and contented with whatever your bosses condescend to allow you or you will get killed. You have for years endured the most abject humiliation, you have for years suffered unmeasurable iniquities; you have worked yourselves to death; you have endured the pangs of hunger, your children you have sacrificed to factory lords. In short, you have been miserable and obedient slaves all these years. Why? To satisfy the insatiable greed and to fill the coffers of your lazy thieving master! When you ask them now to lessen your burden, he sends his bloodhounds out to shoot you, kill you. To arms! We call you to arms! YOUR BROTHERS."

MADE CONCESSIONS.

CHICAGO, May 4.—A meeting to discuss the labor situation was held to-day at which there were representatives of every packing house in the city. The meeting decided to allow every packer to do as he pleased with reference to the employment and pay of his laborers in every department. After the meeting adjourned Mr. Armour and Mr. Michael Cudahy said they had given instructions to their foremen to notify all their employes that they should receive ten hours' pay for eight hours' work. It was also decided that all other packing houses should adopt the same rule at once.

WILL RESIST DEMANDS.

CHICAGO, May 4.—Managers of all railroads centering in Chicago held a meeting at the Burlington general office to consider the strike of freight handlers. An informal interchange of ideas relative to the situation finally culminated in the adoption of a resolution to the effect that the present condition of business did not warrant any advance in the wages now paid employes. The roads pledge themselves to act in unity in the matter and to resist all demands for shorter hours or advance in wages, agreeing not to treat individually or make concessions not approved by all.

SWITCHES SPIKED.

CHICAGO, May 3.—The strikers this afternoon spiked all the switches on the Evanston division of the Milwaukee & St. Paul road and compelled the switch engine to be returned to the round house. This line is an unimportant branch of the road.

THE MOVEMENT AT ST. LOUIS.

ST. LOUIS, May 3.—The eight hour agitation still continues in this city but strikes and lockouts are fewer in number than was generally anticipated. Moulders to the number of 200 struck to-day in the foundries of Cristopher & Simpson, Scherpe & Koken, Fulton Bros. and P. McMurray & Co. The strikers demand eight hours and pay by the day instead of by the piece. Five hundred employes of the Southern bagging company demanded fewer hours and more pay, and are on a strike. Their demand, if granted, would restore the state of affairs which existed some time ago, and a speedy settlement is probable. Eighty five wrappers in the employ of Liggett & Myers, tobacco manufacturers, who struck Saturday for piece work instead of pay by the day, returned to their places, their demand having been granted. Twenty five stemmers working for the same firm struck, their demands, similar to that of the wrappers, not having been acceded to. The committee of the brewers' union to-day called upon the various brewers of the city and demanded the adoption of the eight hour system. The brewers requested that no decisive action be taken by the members of the union until after the meeting of the brewers' association, which will meet Wednesday next, when they promise to consider the demand and formulate their reply as soon after as possible. The brewers of this city are well satisfied with their wages, receiving $5 more per month than those in Milwaukee, and an amicable adjustment will probably be arranged soon.

CONGRESSMAN CURTIN'S LABORS.

ST. [illegible], May 3.—Chairman Curtin of the congressional labor investigation committee busied himself during the greater part of yesterday in an attempt to end the Gould southwest system strike. He held a conference which lasted from noon till late in the afternoon with members of the general executive committee of the Knights of Labor, and afterwards called upon Vice President Hoxie of the Missouri Pacific. He then returned to his hotel and conferred a second time with the Knights. The result of all this conferring cannot be positively known, but it is confidently expected that the outcome will be the end of the strike during the next thirty six hours.

The congressional committee after having heard the testimony of prominent business men in St. Louis on Saturday endeavored if possible to have the Knights of Labor declare the strike off in the interest of peace and business, and that the prosperity of the country be restored, and at an informal meeting held on Saturday night the matter was broached by the committee to the executive board. A letter addressed to the board was then drawn up and signed by all the members of the committee except Mr. Burns, who has gone to his home at St. Joseph, and of course his signature could not be offered, although he was heartily in favor of this course. The letter was left with Mr. Curtin, chairman of the committee.

THE CURTIN COMMITTEE LEAVE ST. LOUIS.

SEDALIA, Mo., May 3.—The Curtin sub-committee left St. Louis this morning on a special train in charge of Superintendent Kerrigan, having on board Governor Curtin, Governor Stewart, two members of the sub-committee, W. F. Reiber, [illegible] P. Barry and T. D. McGuire, representatives of the Knights of Labor; W. Kerrigan, general superintendent; Judge Farris, general solicitor; F. K. Sibley and Andrews and Gordon, stenographers for the railroad company. State Labor Commissioner Lynch, Adjutant General Jamison and State [illegible] Park and Clark joined the committee at Jefferson City. Adjutant General Campbell and Commissioner Faulkner of Kansas have been summoned to appear before the committee to-morrow at Atchison.

RESUMED OPERATIONS.

ST. LOUIS, May 3.—After several months the Vulcan iron works at Carondelet resumed operations this morning, giving employment to about 400 men and boys. The works prepared a schedule of wages which will remain in force until January 1. This schedule was presented to the men yesterday evening and they unanimously resolved to go to work at the proposed terms, and this morning the furnaces are in full blast.

AN AGREEMENT REACHED.

ST. LOUIS, May 3.—Late Saturday night Messrs. Hayes, Bailey and Barry, the executive board of the Knights of Labor, met the congressional committee informally at [illegible] the meeting led to the happy result of the Knights declaring the strike off. They exchanged the following correspondence:

ST. LOUIS, May 1.

To the General Executive Board Knights of Labor: Testimony taken to-day by the congressional investigating committee shows conclusively that very serious losses to the commercial, agricultural and other interests of the country have resulted from the late troubles upon lines of railways belonging to the Southwestern system and other railroads in the states of Illinois, Missouri, Kansas, Arkansas and Texas, and that by reason of all troubles a large number of persons not directly connected therewith have been thrown out of employment. Unwilling at this time to express our opinions as to the causes which produced this lamentable condition of affairs or to indicate where the blame lies for its continuance, and animated solely by a desire to render all assistance in our power in endeavoring to restore peace, individual happiness and commercial prosperity to the citizens of the country, and particularly of the five states named, we do hereby respectfully but earnestly request you and all American citizens having the welfare of our common country at heart to advise through the proper official channels a discontinuance of the strike upon railways here and before mentioned, and to leave the question as to whether the employes or officers of the corporations were justifiable to the decision that public opinion may form when the congressional committee which has that matter under investigation shall have completed its work. Feeling assured that compliance with this request will meet for your board and for those who may act in conformity with your counsel the approbation of the people of the United States, we are your obedient servants,

A. G. CURTIN.
W. H. CRANE.
JAMES H. OUTHWAITE.
A. N. PARKER.
JAMES BUCHANAN.
J. W. STEWART.

THE REPLY.

ST. LOUIS, May 3.

To Hon. A. G. Curtin, James H. Outhwaite, James Buchanan, W. H. Crane, A. N. Parker, J. W. Stewart—Gentlemen: Your communication of May 1 was placed before the general executive board and the following resolutions adopted:

Resolved, That the communication from the congressional committee and their request be granted. The time for calling the strike off is left to the general executive board in view of the fact that the business interests of the country are suffering, and the Knights of Labor having the interests of the whole people at heart willingly comply with the request of the nation's representatives and that of the citizens' committee of St. Louis, declare the strike at an end, to take effect Tuesday morning, May 4, 1886.

Trusting this action will meet with the approval of the public and assist in bringing capital and labor in closer relationship, we remain very truly yours, the general executive board of the Knights of Labor, by JOHN A. HAYES.

Upon the receipt of the reply by Gov. Curtin, which was received when his sub-committee was about to leave for Atchison, he telegraphed the following dispatch to the president at Washington:

JEFFERSON CITY, May [illegible].

The strike is ordered off. The correspondence will be in the papers to-morrow morning. Our colleagues are taking testimony in the Southwest. The present peaceful settlement will shorten hours of labor. Only a few members of the committee are on board the train at this time. Messrs. Crane, Outhwaite, Parker and Buchanan having left Sunday morning for Parsons, Kansas, and Mr. Burns has gone home and will meet the sub-committee at Atchison. Following is a copy of the order issued declaring the strike off:

OFFICE OF THE EXECUTIVE BOARD,
ST. LOUIS, May [illegible].

To the Members of District Assemblies 17, [illegible], 101 and of the General Assembly, and non-Members, or Persons Affected by the Present Strike upon the Gould Southwest System of Railways: Gentlemen: On April [illegible] the citizens of St. Louis requested this board that in the interests of the business community of St. Louis and the United States in general the strike upon the Gould Southwest system of railways be declared at an end. While this request was under consideration, on May 2, by the joint boards of district assemblies 17, 93 and 101, the committee appointed by congress to investigate the cause of the trouble between the railroad company and its employes made similar requests, in which they say the testimony taken to-day by the congressional investigating committee shows conclusively that very serious losses to the commercial industries of the entire country have resulted from this trouble and that large numbers of persons not connected therewith have been thrown out of employment. Therefore we do respectfully but earnestly ask you to discontinue this strike and leave the justice of your case to the decision that public opinion may form when we make our report. The document was fully considered and the following conclusions arrived at: That the matter be left in the hands of the general executive board. They set the time and declare the strike at an end. We have therefore settled Tuesday morning, May 4, 1886, as the time when this strike shall end. You will make application to your former employers for re-employment on the above date, May 4. By order of the general executive board.

JOHN W. HAYES.

Mr. Hayes said that to-morrow morning this order would be obeyed by all the striking Knights, and that they would present themselves for employment to the different railroad companies.

LOCKOUT IN WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, May 3.—A very general lockout began here to-day against the eight hour demands of the unions of bricklayers, hod carriers, stone cutters, stone rubbers, painters, plumbers and carpenters, numbering in aggregate over 2000 men. The demands have been complied with in some instances, and negotiations looking to an adjustment of difficulties are under way in several others. There has been no disturbance of the peace.

RESUMING WORK.

PHILADELPHIA, May 3.—Seven hundred cabinet makers in forty-six shops went to work this morning on the new time schedule of eight hours per day, and in some cases an increase of wages ranging from 10 to 20 per cent. Three hundred men, from sixteen shops, remain out.

AT PITTSBURG.

PITTSBURG, May 3.—Strikes were inaugurated this morning by stonemasons, carpenters and plasterers for a reduction from ten to nine hours a day. About 1800 men in all quit work.

By using Buckingham's Dye the whiskers may be easily made a permanent, natural brown, or black, as desired.

GENERAL NEWS.

Miss Folsom an Object of Great Interest in Paris.

ANARCHIST SCHEMES EXPOSED.

A Manifesto by Gladstone—Yellow Fever at Panama—The Situation in Greece—Nitro Glycerine Explosion in California—Notes.

NEW YORK, May [illegible].—The Herald's Paris cable gram says: The presence of Miss Folsom in Paris and the rumors of her approaching marriage with President Cleveland are the great topics of conversation in the American colony in Paris. Miss Folsom herself is naturally an object of great interest wherever she is seen, and there has seldom been such a brisk demand at Boulevard kiosks for latest files of New York papers containing news about her engagement. Mrs. Folsom is staying at the Hotel Bellevue. She is accompanied by her mother and her cousin, Benjamin Folsom. With the Folsoms are also Mr. Stuart, U. S. consul at Antwerp, and Mrs. Stuart.

NEW YORK, May [illegible].—The Herald's Paris cable gram says: Mrs. Folsom said to-day that it had been decided by her family to neither confirm nor affirm the engagement of Miss Folsom to President Cleveland, as it is their wish to keep Miss Folsom from being subjected to scrutiny and annoyance while on her travels in Europe. The family are living in the quietest fashion. Their [illegible] is to avoid while abroad the social attention which confirmation of the engagement will [illegible] certainly have brought to Miss Folsom. "I do not confirm the engagement," said Mrs. Folsom, "but you can draw your own conclusion from the fact that the trousseau is nearly finished." Miss Folsom leaves Paris for London on the 10th and will remain in the English capital [illegible]. It is expected that she will be presented at court [illegible] Liverpool on the 18th.

AN ANARCHIST SCHEME.

Liberty and the Sun Make Charges of a Serious Nature.

NEW YORK, May 3.—A few weeks ago Liberty, a [illegible] published in Boston in the interests of individualistic anarchists, preferred charges of a very serious nature against revolutionary anarchists of this city who are led by John Most. The substance of the charges was given in these dispatches at the time. They were in effect that the members of the International Working People's association of New York was then plotting and practicing a peculiar system of a most atrocious character under the pretense of aiding the cause. No details were given nor were any names mentioned against whom suspicion might be directed. It was asserted that one feature consisted of insuring household property and firing it in order to collect indemnification, the money to be contributed to the revolutionary fund as well as to be used for private purposes. The editor of Liberty declared that his object in publishing the charges was to [illegible] bona fide anarchists against any stigma that might attach to them from the criminal deeds of unscrupulous men who advocate doctrines and commit crimes wholly at variance with the philosophers of individualism.

The Sun this morning says that ever since these charges were made it has been investigating the matter and now gives the result of its labors. John Most, of course, made denial of the charges, and an attempt to verify Most's denial discloses a peculiar state of things in anarchist circles. There is bitter internal dissensions and discord, or rather there was, between members of the International Working People's association. These facts, which were gleaned after considerable difficulty, show that leading members of the International Working People's association have been remarkably unlucky men in connection with these most extraordinary doctrines. The curious fires from which these gentlemen have suffered are of interest. They all originated in the upsetting or the exploding of lamps and have resulted in more or less damage to property of others than anarchists, and in the collection of more or less insurance money each time by persons in whose apartments the fires occurred. The Sun then publishes a long list of anarchists whose worldly goods have been destroyed by fire. All have been so fortunate as to secure ample insurance a few days before the kerosene lamps exploded.

GLADSTONE'S MANIFESTO.

Receiving Assurances of Sympathy from all Over the World.

NEW YORK, May [illegible].—A London special has the following from Gladstone's manifesto: "I have never known an occasion when a parliamentary event so rang throughout the world as the introduction of this bill under the auspices of the British government. From public meetings and from the highest authorities in the colonies and America, from capitals such as Washington, Boston and Quebec, and from remote districts lying beyond reach of all ordinary political excitement, I receive conclusive assurances that kindred people regard with warm and fraternal sympathy our present effort to settle on an adequate scale and once for all the long, vexed and troubled relations between Great Britain and Ireland, which exhibits to us the one and only conspicuous failure of the political genius of our race to confront and master the difficulty and to obtain in a reasonable degree the main ends of civilized life. Watching from day to day the movement of currents of opinion during the present conflict, more and more I find it necessary to observe the point at which the dividing lines are drawn. On the side adverse to the government are found, as I sorrowfully admit, in profuse abundance, station, title, wealth, social influence and professions, or a large majority of them. In a word, the spirit and power of class. These are the main body of the opposing host. Nor is this all. As the knights of old had servants, so in the great army of class each enrolled soldier has dependents. The adverse host then consists of class and dependents of class. We have a great aim before us now. It is to restore your parliament to efficiency by dividing, and by removing obstacles to its work, to treat the Irish question with due regard to its special ties, but with the same thoroughness of method by which we have solved the colonial problems that fifty years back were hardly if at all less formidable; to give heed to the voice of the people speaking in tones of moderation by the mouth of the vast majority of those whom we ourselves have made its constitutional representatives, and thus to strengthen and consolidate the empire on a basis of mutual benefit and hearty loyalty. Such is our end. As for the means, we take the establishment in Dublin of a legislative body empowered to make laws for the Irish as contradistinguished from imperial affairs. It is with this that we are now busied; as to details and particulars their time will come.

"My countrymen of Scotland and [illegible], I can do nothing with you collectively and not with any person or class or section among you. It rests with you to deliver the great [illegible]. On your [illegible] all the best hopes of Ireland and [illegible] for Great Britain and all [illegible]."

SOUTH AMERICA.

THE YELLOW FEVER EPIDEMIC.

NEW YORK, May [illegible].—The Herald says: Dr. N[illegible]son, who has spent five years as a practicing physician at Panama, and was for some time a member of the board of health of that state, arrived at New York by the last steamer. In an interview he says: "At the present time yellow fever exists in an almost epidemic form. There were forty three deaths from the disease in the city of Panama in March and in Aspinwall fifteen deaths among the canal men alone. The wet season is now on and there is much sickness all over the Isthmus owing to dirty canal camps. Up to the 12th of April 1886 344 canal hospital patients and [illegible] of the town had been buried. Apart from these were numbers of persons of the better classes buried in stone vaults. During same interval hundreds have been buried in foreign, Jewish and Chinese cemeteries. The filth in both cities and along the canal is simply indescribable. The [illegible] sights and odors constantly meet one. It is one of the saddest sights [illegible] to be seen. Foreigners are allowed [illegible] the sidewalks to be picked up dead."

GREECE.

THE SITUATION CRITICAL.

ATHENS, May 3.—The situation here is complicated and critical. The government resents the interference of the powers with its internal affairs. The foreign ministers are gathered at the residence of Sir Horace Rumbold, British minister, awaiting final instructions from their governments. The time given in the ultimatum of the powers for Greece to acquiesce in their demands expired at [illegible] o'clock this evening.

CONSIDERS ITS REPLY SUFFICIENT.

ATHENS, May 3.—The government has decided that its reply already made to the ultimatum of the powers is sufficient, and that promises made therein are all it can make. The ministers of the powers here are preparing to embark to-morrow on the allied fleet.

Lost Faith in Physicians.

There are innumerable instances where cures have been effected by SCOVILL'S SARSAPARILLA OR BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP for all diseases of the blood, when the patient had been given up by physicians. It is one of the best remedies ever offered to the public, and as it is prepared with the greatest care, [illegible] a specific for certain diseases, it is no wonder that it should be more effectual than hastily written and carelessly prepared prescriptions. Take SCOVILL'S BLOOD AND LIVER SYRUP for all disorders arising from impure blood. It is endorsed by all leading professional men.

PORTLAND, TUESDAY, MAY 4, 1886

A TEA-POT TEMPEST

Nobody appears to know whether President Cleveland meditates matrimony or not, but if he should thrust his neck into the matrimonial collar what a social convulsion there would be at Washington. At present Mrs. Whitney, the wealthy wife of the secretary of the navy, outshines all the social stars of her sex in Washington. She is the queen of the republican court at the capital. Miss Cleveland has attractive manners, a respectable literary reputation and excellent taste in dress but she was too sensible a woman to try to posture as what is termed the "dictator of society and the leader of fashion." But if the president should marry a young wife then there would be a struggle for what is known at Washington as social supremacy, that would be as bitter as the feud between the Montagues and the Capulets. In England social distinctions are observed even by the servants. The butler, the housekeeper, the valets and the ladies' maids are upper classes who take their meals in the housekeeper's room, the others eat in the servants' hall. At dinner they all sit together, the butler presiding until the meats have been served, but when the sweets come the upper servants, according to degree, march off to the housekeeper's room. The servant of a duke precedes the servant of an earl; the valet of an ambassador goes before a mere envoy's gentleman. Adam Badeau reports that Lady Torrington's maid on one occasion thrust back the maid of Lady Molesworth and exclaimed: "You are only the servant of a baronet's wife, and my mistress is the wife of the Right Hon. Viscount Torrington, lord in waiting to her majesty."

Washington, more than any city in America, seems disposed to ape the infirmities of the English aristocracy. This enforcement of nice social distinctions seems ridiculous even in a foreign country where the tyrannical rule of caste and class has been recognized and respected for centuries, and is part of the hereditary habit and conduct of the people, whose very laws are passed to protect the privileges and honors of the few against the many; but how ineffably insane it appears in America when we all, in theory at least, pretend to dislike such distinctions as cordially, and denounce them as eloquently as ever did Elijah Pogram and Col. Jefferson Brick. A few months ago Washington trembled on the eve of a social war of unusual bitterness because it was reported that a caucus of the wives of the cabinet had resolved that "The ladies of cabinet will return no calls in person this winter; they will call only by card." The wives of senators deem the cabinet officers lower in the social scale of the capital, because they depend on the senate for confirmation and are not recognized by the constitution, and therefore that first calls are due from the cabinet ladies, whose calls when made by card are returned by card. The supreme court ladies claim priority over the senate ladies. Then comes the claim of the speaker's wife, the ex-speaker's wife and the ladies of veteran congressmen of acknowledged fame and influence. When the Vermont brigade was in camp on the Rapidan in 1864, a furious war broke out among the visiting wives of the officers as to the question of social precedence. There was a colonel's wife in camp who claimed to be the ranking lady by virtue of her husband's commission, but her assumption was contested by a captain's wife who declared that the colonel's wife and family were not more than her social equals and intimates at home in Vermont and should not be regarded as her superiors in Virginia, until the colonel's wife not only wore her husband's breeches in the victories of peace, but wore his entire uniform and was regularly commissioned by the governor of Vermont as Col. Smith's wife, commanding not only the colonel but the entire camp, soldiers, civilians, contrabands and Confederate prisoners.

The captain's wife fought it out on this social line all the winter and used to tell with delight how the colonel's wife once undertook to make a government train wait for her at Harper's Ferry. The officer in charge refused to wait a minute. "Do you know who I am?" "I don't care who you are." "I am the wife of Col. Smith of ——Vermont regiment." "I don't care if you are the wife of Gen. Grant or President Lincoln; this train is under orders from the secretary of war to start on time, and like time and tide it waits for no man, much less for any woman." If this sort of fashionable despotism once prevailed we might get into the social state at last where, as Pope says, lass would intone to ass aristocratic nonsense from the court of St. James to the court at Washington. If the president should marry Washington would be agitated more than ever over the social distinctions between the senate ladies, the ladies of the cabinet, the ladies of the supreme court, and the endless line of successions that Washington women with titled, if not distinguished husbands kill time in creating, enforcing and maintaining as if they were the rock of ages on which the life of the republic and the ark of its pinchback aristocracy rested. It is bad enough to be governed by cheap politicians but is perhaps preferable to a social oligarchy in petticoats.

ART AND MORALS

The Montreal crusade against the nude in art is directed against a gentleman, who keeps in his house copies of Venus di Medici, the Venus Milo and [illegible] Slave. It is not the nudity [illegible] of a picture or a statue that is objectionable, but the idea intended to be conveyed by the [illegible] expression of the nude figure. A [illegible] suckling her infant in the [illegible] baby [illegible] about naked, is not an immoral [illegible], and therefore [illegible] those under the ban of [illegible] Montreal are not immoral in expression, while on the other hand art that is not [illegible] partially nude may be objectionable [illegible] the general public. Every gallery includes much of this odious eroticism in art. The Greek Slave of Powers is unobjectionable nudity. So while there is no objection to decent nudity [illegible] public art gallery in [illegible]. The Venus di Medici, the Venus Milo are one thing; the [illegible] Venus and [illegible] Venus and [illegible] Susannah and the Elders [illegible] Dancing Girl and several well known pictures by Rubens and Rembrandt are quite another thing. The decent nude and the indecent nude are all found in city art galleries open to and visited by people of every age, sex, and degree of culture and intelligence.

To artists and people of high art culture these works are all interesting and harmless, but they are no more a proper subject for universal inspection than the naked cadaver of the anatomist is a decent subject for the visitation of the crowd. Napoleon's beautiful sister Pauline, posing nude for Canova, was to Canova but an art opportunity, while Pauline, standing at a window, not nude at all, but making wanton gestures to the populace would not have been art at all, but gross immodesty. So on the stage the ordinary ballet of the opera may be fairly regarded as a legitimate accessory of the stage, but the French opera of Offenbach, prurient not only in language but in terpsichorean expression, is quite another thing. The legitimate operatic ballet is not offensive when rendered by a Morlacchi or a Bonfanti, but under Aimee, Schneider and Tosti it degenerated into an indecent and obscenely suggestive can-can. We find in art galleries and on the stage this same confusion between legitimate and illegitimate art expression. The same line of distinction may be made in novels and plays. Chaucer called a spade a spade; there are coarse passages in Shakespeare and Fielding and yet we do not class these great literary artists, who were incidentally of rank and vulgar speech, with Sue, Gautier, Zola, and other men of genius, of the modern French school of literary art. The modern French school is nothing when it is not nasty by insinuation, innuendo and inference. Chaucer, Shakespeare and Fielding are nude sometimes, but, measured by their primal intent, they are men of manly purity, compared with the half nude, yet poisonous obscenity of French fiction.

Fashionable society in New York does not encourage women to button their gowns up to the chin, and yet the poor stage women, unless they happen to be "stars" like Bernhardt, Modjeska, or Langtry, are subject to severe criticism by those who adore society, yet sanctimoniously shun the theater. As to the moral harm wrought by the spectacle of free and easy art on the stage it probably is not equal to the evil influences of speech, sight and performance that sooner or later meet every boy when he becomes, as become he must eventually, part of the mixed society of the street and the public school. Something must be trusted to the influence of education and example at home, to the church and the teacher to furnish children, as well as men and women, with the moral sense to see and hear evil without embracing it, or being stimulated to chase after its shadow to its substance, to the utter exclusion of better things. You cannot bottle an hermetically seal up children. If you could, you could only get a cloistered virtue that wastes like fog before the sun, when it comes face to face with life. The evangelical theory of the necessity of absolute separation between the Christian man and the world gives us simply a conventional goodness, like the courage of a soldier that is inferred from his uniform, before he has ever been under fire. The virtuous man worth having, is not the child of the cloister, but is the man who is a graduate of conflict, the man who, knowing evil well by experience, repudiates it, flees from it, admires, chooses, pursues and holds fast to the right. We do not expurgate the Bible of its coarse passages; we do not purge Horace, Terence, Juvenal and Aristophanes of indelicate language; we do not clarify Shakespeare, Pope or Burns of all their smut, because we believe that the souls whose salvation turns on the question whether they have read the expurgated Bible, or an expurgated literature, whether Latin, Greek or English, are souls so slender and so shallow as not to be worth rescue or redemption. Evil generally comes quickly to him who evil thinks, and the prurient prudery that is sometimes mistaken for piety and purity, is deserving of contempt.

IN VIOLATION OF LAW.

Ben Butler bids the labor malcontents drop the boycott, as a foolish weapon that hurts more than it helps. There is a better reason for dropping it one at least more effective with lawless labor, viz: boycotting is a crime punishable by fine and imprisonment under the penal code of most of the states, since it is clearly a conspiracy, when men resort to a boycott. Boycotters have already been held for trial in New York and St. Louis, and if the Lake Shore strike had not been settled the boycotters would have been prosecuted under the Illinois code, in which such conspiracies are punishable by imprisonment for three years or a fine of not more than $1000. Boycotting is also punishable under the United States law drawn to reach the kuklux conspiracy. The laws of Pennsylvania and Michigan also make "boycotting" unlawful. Judge Pardee, of the United States district court, in a recent decision, ruled that any attempt "to tie up" a railroad, such as was attempted in Texas and New York city, was a conspiracy at common law and subject to punishment. Under the New York code any attempt at coercion is a crime. Chief Justice Daly, of the New York court of common pleas, has ruled that "any association or combination for the purpose of compelling journeymen or employers to conform to any rule, regulation, or agreement fixing the rate of wages to which they are not parties by the imposition of penalties, by agreeing to quit the service of any employer who employs journeymen below certain rates, unless the journeymen pays the penalty imposed by the combination, or by menaces, threats, intimidations, violence, or other unlawful means, is a conspiracy for which the parties entering into it may be indicted."

In order to secure the safety of life and property on the high seas the federal law treats a "strike" at sea as a mutiny. No sailor can leave his ship or desert his post without incurring severe punishment, and it is fairly argued that congress ought to clothe a railroad company which is under strict responsibility for the lives and property of passengers, with the same power to enforce discipline, to instantly discharge incompetent or reckless employes, without any interference that is now provided for the government of seamen. Of course the railway companies have legal power enough now, but they lack protection for the exercise and peaceful enforcement of their authority. The public is but finding out that under the law the strikers who destroy property, do violence to workmen that choose to accept the wages the strikers refused, who "boycott" any business that refuses to surrender its right of managing its own affairs to trades unions, are all outlaws and can be severely punished. The labor troubles will be solved at last as Grant solved the Kuklux problem. He filled the government penitentiaries with the Kuklux. When these labor incendiaries find out that the "boycott," "the tie up," the lynching of men who have dared to accept a price for their labor without asking leave of anybody, are treated by the law as crimes that make them liable to be planted in the penitentiary they will not "strike" so often and will be careful to keep their revolt within the lines of the law. The labor troubles have at least taught the friends of law and order their legal rights, and when this knowledge begins to bear fruit in shape of prosecution and punishment of the mob, there will not be so much amusement or profit in lawless proceedings as at present. The American people are not ready to see trampled under foot by a black mail conspiracy the principles of American citizenship so well defined by Mrs. Gray's foreman when he said: "[illegible] belong to no union—the [illegible] of the United States. I am an American citizen [illegible] I propose to exercise my privileges as such [illegible]"

AS TO ASSESSMENT

We print to-day a letter from Yamhill county, on the proposed new assessment law. It is written by a man who has studied closely the questions of taxation, and contains many important suggestions. The bill proposed by the tax commission is by no means perfect and the additions suggested in the letter printed to-day would we believe improve it. They are worth considering. [illegible]

All that [illegible] present assessment [illegible] the advantages of district assessment is quite true. But he overlooks the paramount disadvantage. If adopted it would continue the false and foolish system of undervaluation of property which, if we are ever to deal justly and rationally with this business of taxation, must be reformed. Mere considerations of convenience cut small figure in commending a plan to which can be opposed an objection so important and serious.

As to the matter of time the objection to the present system could be overcome by employing general assistants. But if the business is done in the way proposed in the bill, if each district is to have its own local assessor resident within its limits, if each local assessor is made responsible for his district, there will be between districts a competition similar to that now practiced between the counties. Each district assessor, in the interest of his neighbors, will make valuations as low as possible, and the old evil will continue.

Unusual interest and activity are exhibited by the delegates present for the democratic convention to-day. The delegations are uncommonly full—there being comparatively few proxies. Nothing can be said to be settled regarding nominations. For almost every office many candidates are discussed. There seems to be among the delegates a sense of the necessity of making judicious nominations, if the party is to have any chance of success.

It is said that Chicago will suffer this year to the amount of at least $20,000,000 through the perplexities to builders, contractors and investors arising from the strikes, demand for the eight-hour system, etc.

That tired feeling will not trouble you long if you take Hood's Sarsaparilla. Sold by druggists.

SUGGESTS A TEN OARED BARGE

ASTORIA, May [illegible]

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

I have just been reading in THE OREGONIAN of to-day under the heading of "In General" your comments on the Portland boating clubs and upon the lack of outdoor amusements in and about the city. While living in one of the largest cities upon the great lakes I was a member of one of the boat clubs of which there were some six or eight, with good and even elegant boat houses, and equipped with all the latest improvements in racing boats and fixtures, but none of which considered their outfit complete without a ten oared barge. This boat was little used for racing, and I have seen it in races where as many as ten boats participated, but its great advantages as a pleasure boat was that by leaving out oarsmen number one and two, or rather by setting them two seats further back, a party of eight or more guests could be accommodated, and I have passed many enjoyable evenings with such parties. The custom being for one member to get up his "barge party," call upon his friends to row for him and provide some entertainment at the boat house on their return, he in his turn being ready to do the same for them. These boats were also used in our moonlight reviews rigged with Chinese lanterns and torches and provided with fireworks, and red fire, their evolutions making a beautiful sight upon the water.

If any of your clubs should desire to inform themselves as to the construction of a ten oared barge, the measurements will no doubt be furnished them upon application to the secretary of the Northwestern Amateur boating association at Detroit, Michigan. S. S. C.

LOAN WANTED TO RAILWAY OF $100,000.—Pursuant to order of the Circuit Court of the United States for the District of Oregon, duly made and entered April 19, 1886, the undersigned receiver of the Oregonian Railway Company (limited) hereby advertises for a loan to said railway company of the sum of one hundred thousand dollars, at the lowest rate of interest, the money to be expended in reconstructing bridges upon the line of the said railway across the North and South Santiam rivers in Oregon and in other repairs upon the track of said railway. The loan is to be evidenced by certificates to be issued by the receiver which, by said order of court, are made a first lien upon said railway property, taking precedence over all liens heretofore created upon the loan, not to exceed [illegible] per cent, and to be payable semi-annually for a term of [illegible] years with the option to the borrower of paying the principal in six equal installments to be paid either on each year, or two each second year or three each third year from the date of the loan. HOW TO GET AT CORPORATIONS

PASCO May 2 1886

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

From all accounts a meteor struck somewhere in [illegible] Washington, and as meteors fall in [illegible] localities, why can't ideas emanate near this? and I hope no one will infer from this that [illegible] an obscure locality. But to my idea the laboring classes are combining against capital [illegible] rights which capital claims the laborer [illegible] already enjoy. Is this so? The [illegible] the poor as well as the rich is a favorite [illegible] true. But there is an old cook book [illegible] which says "First catch your hare." Now [illegible] catch a cotton tail but how about [illegible] jack rabbit? The laborer when amenable [illegible] having interfered with the rights of [illegible] found but capital can dodge [illegible], and unless you have a horse (money) [illegible] and gun (influence) you are liable to [illegible] hungry for hare.

[illegible] if congress should pass a law [illegible] all railroads and other corporations to [illegible] some one man in each county in each [illegible] territory in which they do business or have [illegible] other than landed estate, who shall have [illegible] to sue and be sued and the name of the [illegible] authorized shall be posted in a conspicuous [illegible] in every business office or waiting room [illegible] city, town, village or station at which [illegible] corporation is doing business in said county [illegible] principal cause of ill feeling and dissatisfaction [illegible] the corporations would be removed. Who [illegible] of the innumerable petty acts of injustice [illegible] corporations are held responsible for some [illegible] sometimes wrongly that would be [illegible] by having a nucleus responsibility near [illegible] to check the first error that gives a pretext.

[illegible] received and no opportunity to re[illegible] is magnified by time.

Labor is following the example of capital and re[illegible] the seat of responsibility as far as possible [illegible] the place of action. Concentrating their [illegible], from being a row among the recruits [illegible] battle between armies. Men suffer on one [illegible] money suffers on the other.

[illegible] is it that the Knights of Labor have the [illegible] of the middle classes, right or wrong, [illegible] there are very few that have not suffered [illegible] petty loss, injury slight or neglect causing [illegible] the hands of employes of corporations. [illegible] is no doubt but the corporation would remedy [illegible] indemnify any injury or loss within reason [illegible] and insignificance intervene and the [illegible] of loss or injury remains. Short accounts [illegible] long friends.

LAWN TENNIS

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

[illegible] a local writer to the SUNDAY OREGONIAN [illegible] decides that lawn tennis is a game for the [illegible]. He most certainly cannot know what he is [illegible] about. Possibly his experience is confined [illegible] very scratch game that he has seen here. [illegible] as it is properly played calls for the [illegible] qualities of quickness and endurance, along [illegible] as good an eye and deft a wrist as billiards [illegible] well played game will use up the strongest [illegible] entirely beyond the powers of the sick. I [illegible] this explanation and wish to see the game [illegible] here and feel sure it only has to be[illegible] properly known to be very popular as it has [illegible] also. A game for the sick would [illegible] nearer like the truth. RACQUET.

[illegible] for the rich was written and a printer [illegible] made it game for the sick. Of course [illegible] who has ever seen a game of tennis knows [illegible] is a sport for the strong and [illegible] only.]

FAST VOYAGES

PORTLAND O May 1[illegible]

Please state in your paper what is the fastest [illegible] made between San Francisco and [illegible] by any clipper ship either way and oblige

The fastest passage between San Francisco and [illegible] York was made by the Contest—time 80 days—[illegible] in port May 31 1853. THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET

PORTLAND May 3

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

[illegible] indicates that the ticket suggested [illegible] in THE OREGONIAN last week will be [illegible], except in place of Ison Slater will be [illegible] for congress. Ison is the stronger man but [illegible]. Suppose the convention forces [illegible] evidently intends to force Whittock for [illegible] Then Ramsey for judge Gibbons for [illegible] of state and Hogan for treasurer.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

TO BE HAULED OVER THE CASCADES.—The steamer [illegible] McCully was taken to the Cascades [illegible] Sunday and is now lying at the foot of the locks at what is known as the Jumping-off Place. When the water rises an attempt will be made to haul the McCully up over the falls to the middle Columbia. Our informant says the modus operandi will be to splice three lines together into one line which will then be 360 fathoms in length. One end will then be attached to trees on an island in the upper river, to the other end several barrels will be attached so as to carry it with the current over the falls and down into the lower river. Here it will be picked up and attached to a steam capstan on the McCully. By winding the line around the capstan as it revolves it is thought the steamer can be safely hauled up over the falls to the upper Columbia. Should the attempt prove successful the McCully will be the first steamer ever raised over the falls.

DECLARED INSANE.—On the arrival of the O R & N Co's train from the East yesterday a young man named A S Hawkins was turned over to a policeman as insane. Hawkins made it lively for the railroad officials all the way from Pendleton and afterwards for the authorities here on his arrival. He locked himself up in the county court room immediately on being turned in there and for awhile had things all his own way. He was finally quieted and secured, and on an examination was ordered committed to the asylum. Hawkins is 32 years of age and when at home belongs in Hannibal Missouri. He is a salesman by occupation and has worked here and at The Dalles. In 188[illegible] he was sent to the Oregon asylum and a year or so afterwards was discharged as cured. Since that time Hawkins has been in the California asylum. He was taken to Salem yesterday afternoon.

SOUVENIR PROGRAMMES.—We have seen the souvenir programmes issued by the managers of "The Princess" entertainment to be given for the first time next Friday evening. In their lavender and gold dress they are beautiful in themselves and their contents are literary gems with extracts from the medley itself and also full cast of characters with a sketch of the story accompanying each act. We notice many familiar names among the actors and feel like congratulating them upon the pleasure they are receiving as well as giving to the public in this "new departure" in school work. These programmes will be of great aid to those not familiar with the text of Tennyson's "Princess" and may be preserved, or sent to friends as mementoes of the entertainment.

THE DISABLED STEAMER.—Yesterday the Willamette Iron works began repairing the broken shaft of the steamship State of California. The break is longitudinal, is thirty inches long and has spread about two inches. It is believed that with bands and bolts the broken parts can be drawn well together and the shaft be made strong enough to undertake the passage to San Francisco where permanent repairs will be made. The State will probably not be able to leave before next Saturday and she will carry no passengers. The next steamer down on which the public can travel is the Columbia which left San Francisco to-day.

NO GOOD FISHING YET.—A great many fishermen have been out during the past few days to various streams and lakes and there is a general complaint of poor luck. The late heavy rains swelled the streams and they have not run down yet and the fishing is really not so good now as it was three weeks or a month ago. There has been scarcely any fly fishing done yet. A pretty fair killing made by Millard Lownsdale at Gale creek is about the only successful fly fishing reported in this neighborhood. The only consolation in the matter is that what is bad for the fisherman is good for the trout.

THE FARMINGTON BRANCH.—The O R & N Co have decided to begin construction of the branch from Colfax to Farmington, W T, without delay. It is a little over thirty miles long, and will cost in the neighborhood of $15,000 a mile. No decision has yet been reached as to whether the grading will be done by contract or not, but most likely the company will do the work and active operations will begin next week. The permanent survey was made some time since and most of the right of way has been secured. Four or five months will be required to finish the line.

FINE SCENIC DISPLAY.—Scenes in the palace in the Princess garden, and in the pavilion, make beautiful tableaux in the entertainment to be given by the High school scholars on Friday evening. Sixty girls in university gowns of lilac and gold recite the bugle song. "Women of the Plow" in peasant dress appear, "Home they brought our warrior dead," one of the finest songs in our language, is given by one of the university maidens. Music between acts is of a high order. Tickets on sale or at the door 50 cents.

HOW DID HE FIND OUT?—The Chinaman Sin Hock who inflicted a fearful wound on the head of one of his countrywomen a few weeks since and against whom a true bill was found by the grand jury went south on the east side road yesterday ticketed to Yreka Cal. It would be interesting to know why that Chinaman was not arrested, and how he came to know that he had been indicted, and why he was allowed to skip out. Some strange things happen in criminal matters nowadays.

INJURED BY LIFTING.—On Wednesday evening last Dr A S Nichols while assisting in moving the safe in his office, sustained a severe sprain of the abdomen. No serious results were apprehended at the time but on the following morning severe pain and vomiting set in, followed by inflammation attended by intense suffering, day and night. His physician considered the probability of his recovery more favorable yesterday, and it is hoped that with good care the doctor may soon be around again.

RETURNED FROM ABROAD.—Sailor boarding house keeper Capt Bell has returned to Portland after an absence of some twenty months in foreign climes. While away Bell sailed as mate of several vessels and although he took in Hong Kong during his travels escaped being shanghaied. It is said he captain returned to break up the monopoly that has existed here for some time in the business and he promises to make it lively. Nothing like enterprise.

RUNAWAY LAD RETURNED.—Sheriff Jordan returned from Astoria yesterday bringing with him David Gray, the young lad who set fire to the International hotel. Gray was saved from going to the penitentiary through the influence of the Boys and Girls' aid society. They provided him with a home and he rewarded their efforts in his behalf by running away. Just what will be done with him now is a question yet to be determined.

CONVENIENCE TO OARSMEN.—Last summer an electric lamp was hung out from the upper story of the works of the Electric Lighting company which was found to be a great convenience to parties boating on the river in the evening. During the winter it was removed but at the request of boatmen Mr Morey has again placed it in position. The favor will be appreciated by all boating on the river in the evening.

TABLES FOR THE PARK.—There was some complaint last summer from parties visiting the city park on account of the scarcity of tables there on which account picnic parties often had to spread their lunch on the ground. The park keeper [illegible] about twenty tables which he will put up as soon as possible. Parties visiting the park and taking their luncheon along will find these tables a great convenience.

BOYS AND GIRLS' AID SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of the Boys' and Girls' aid Society will be held in the council chambers. Election of three trustees and officers for the ensuing year, reading reports of retiring officers and other important business will come before the meeting.

KILLED BY INDIANS

Word has been received at Spokane Falls of the killing near the Colville mines of James Rusk, a prospector. Last Thursday Rusk started for the mines with a saddle and pack horse and a first class outfit. Next day the horses turned up at [illegible] pasture five miles from Spokane and Rusk's family learning of this fact sounded an alarm. On Friday morning officers Joe Warren and E M Pound went in search and returned Saturday, bringing no news of him.

Saturday night the citizens of Spokane met and twenty-eight volunteered to go in search and a fund was raised for expenses. They elected Geo T Crane commander of the searching party. Sunday morning at 7 o'clock the party started. Nine miles from town on Dead Man's creek they found where Rusk had camped, the camp being recognized by an acquaintance from the peculiar arrangement of the camp stick. Twenty rods from this place with his face in the water and a rifle ball through his head they found the dead body of Rusk.

One of his pockets was rifled and the packs, saddle and halters gone. The other pocket contained $172 and his watch, which had stopped at 1[illegible] minutes to 8 P. M. from the water filling it. Apparently he had been killed at the camp fire and carried to the place where the body was found. Numerous moccasin tracks in the vicinity pointed to Indians, though many believe they were white men. There was no other clue. The body was brought to Spokane Falls, where an inquest was held and a verdict of death by an unknown murderer given.

The citizens organized a search party for the murderers, who are thought to be Calispel Indians, and the commander at Fort Coeur d'Alene has been requested to send a detachment of cavalry with officers.

Rusk was a middle aged man and leaves a wife and seven children in a poor condition.

THE PROPOSED NEW ASSESSMENT LAW

LAFAYETTE Oregon April 30 1886

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I have carefully examined the new assessment law, as reported by the tax commissioners and believe that it is, in the main a good law and founded upon correct principles, and should be adopted at our next legislature, with, perhaps, some slight alterations. It is a great improvement upon the present law, which has failed in a great degree to answer the purpose for which it was designed. The provision for taxing railroad companies, insurance, telegraph, telephone and sleeping-car companies on their gross earnings is a wise provision and has generally given satisfaction to both the state and these companies wherever adopted. The reasons given by the members of the commission for this law are well stated and worthy of careful consideration.

The provision allowing deduction of indebtedness to the extent of credits only is almost a necessity, owing to the alarming increase of fraudulent deductions on account of indebtedness. If the increase of indebtedness goes on as it has during the last five years it will be but a short time till it will equal all the taxable property within the state.

Wisconsin under a similar constitution, tried the same law we now have in regard to deduction of indebtedness, but in a few years was forced to do away with it and restrict the deduction of indebtedness to the amount of credits, which is the law in that state at the present time. Deduction of fraudulent indebtedness is the great evil that the legislature has to deal with and unless some provision is made by which this evil is corrected or restricted the entire law will be a failure. It would seem that the remedy proposed is the best under the circumstances that can be enacted.

The provision requiring owners to make maps and plats of their land when divided into irregular shape will in many cases work a hardship upon such owners. A large part of the land in Oregon was taken under the donation law and in an irregular shape, and this law requires all such owners to survey and plat the land at their own expense for the use of the county. Just why a man who is so unfortunate as to own a farm of irregular shape should be compelled to pay for the survey and plats whilst his neighbor who is fortunate enough to own a farm of regular shape is excused and the expense in his case paid by the county, is not apparent, at least at first sight. The expense in these cases will be considerable and ought to be paid by the state and county.

There ought to be a provision providing that the payment of a mortgage debt and the cancellation of a mortgage shall be null and void as against the lien of all taxes assessed against said mortgage and as against the purchaser of any such debt or mortgage at sheriff's sale on a warrant to collect delinquent taxes. As the law now is, a man can cancel his mortgage at any time and it is very doubtful as to what effect it would have in case of a sale of the mortgage at least no one would care to bid much for a mortgage that had been canceled without some such provision as above indicated.

Section [illegible] provides that the board of equalization shall not increase the valuation of taxable property without three days' notice being given to the owner. And section 83 provides that the state board of equalization may equalize the property as returned by the county by adding to the aggregate assessed value thereof, or in other words by increasing the valuation and also that it shall be the duty of the secretary of state to report the action of the state board to the several county clerks within five days after the adjournment of said board. There is no provision in regard to notice when the state board increases the valuation of property but there is a provision that the county board shall not increase without notice and the question is would the action of the state board in increasing the valuation without notice to those interested be valid or binding upon them? In case notice should be deemed essential, the law ought to provide for constructive notice by publication as it would be impossible to serve notice upon each individual taxpayer in a county.

The law ought to define more distinctly the action of the county courts or clerks on receipt of the report of the state board of equalization in regard to the [illegible] or duties, on receiving said report and what should be done with the assessment roll to conform to the actions of the state board.

Section 10[illegible] provides that if tax collectors discover property not assessed they shall assess the same etc. There is no provision for notice to the taxpayer in these cases or for equalizing or correcting the assessment made by the tax collector. This is a similar provision to that now in force in regard to assessments by the sheriff and Judge Deady in one of the tax cases from this county held the law void on the ground that there was no provision for notice to the party assessed or for equalizing and correcting the assessment and that appears to be the law. Some notice to the party assessed and opportunity for correction should be provided in these cases to make the assessment valid.

There ought to be a section added providing for a suit in the name of the county or state against any party who has fraudulently concealed his property or failed or neglected to give a true list of the same to the assessor for the purpose of avoiding the payment of taxes to recover the amount of any taxes justly due from him to the state or county. As the law now stands no suit can be maintained be the fraud ever so great and flagrant and if a party can fool the assessor and tax collector (and many do this) there is no remedy. I know of persons in this county who for years concealed their property, some of which was discovered and taxed for that year [illegible] remedy be not provided all the taxes that should have been paid in years past were lost. Many states have a provision of this kind, and it is found to work well.

The sections providing for district assessors is a necessary provision under the law requiring the assessor to commence the assessment on the first Monday in April and to complete it by the 15th of May following as it is not possible for him to do this alone within that time. As the law now stands he is required to commence on the first Monday in March and to complete it on the first Monday in September and the assessor in this county has never, for several years, been able to complete his work within this time and it would be an utter impossibility for him to do the work between April 1 and the 15th day of May. This county could be divided into three districts and the county assessor with two deputies acting under him, not independently, could make a more complete and satisfactory assessment than it is possible for the assessor alone to do and within the time prescribed. It is well known that quite a considerable amount of property escapes the assessor on account of lack of information in regard to people and their property and it is fair to presume that the district assessors would be more familiar with these matters in his respective district than the assessor could possibly be within the boundaries of the county. If the district assessors are under the control of the assessor or are his deputies there would be little danger of a difference in valuations in the different districts.

I am quite anxious to see as good a tax law as possible enacted, hence I call attention to these matters for public discussion. H.

THE CASINO.

MISS GODFREY'S BENEFIT TO-NIGHT.—As the season of the Thompson opera company at the Casino draws to a close, a series of benefits is in order, and to-night Miss Carrie Godfrey will have the first one. She has by all odds the finest voice and the best vocalization of any of the company and the fact that she is quite as much as Miss Belle Dubois a Portland girl should crowd the house with the elite of the city. Miss Godfrey is not a great actress but she is truly a magnificent vocalist and her efforts to please in all the characters she has assumed and some of them were secondary ones have been so earnest as to merit the appreciation of all fair minded people. The programme for to-night is an excellent one embracing as it does one act of "Iolanthe" and one of "The Merry War" while between the acts a grand concert programme has been arranged, in which Miss Hall, Mr Branson and Mr Murray assist the beneficiary whose selection will be the prayer and waltz from "Falka." Miss Godfrey richly deserves a full house, and from present indications she will have it.

Sudden Changes.

If the body receives daily a proper amount of nutrition and daily expels the worn-out parts, health is the certain consequence, but by a sudden change of weather the pores of the skin may not perform their office well, and matters are retained which should have passed off by that avenue. All causes which impede insensible perspiration are fraught with danger, because matters which should have passed away through the skin are returned again into circulation. Brandreth's Pills will remove all impurities, from whatever cause they may come, curing pain, inflammation and colds arising from above cause in a few hours.

APPEALED CASES

POLICE COURT

The only case of interest examined into in the police court yesterday was that of Robert Menzies and J C Walworth, accused of tapping the till of Albert Simon, a Front street saloon keeper, to the extent of $5. Sunday afternoon Menzies, Walworth and a fellow named Robert Fleming entered Simon's place and drank some beer. During their sojourn Simon had occasion to wait on a customer in one of the private rooms, and it was during his absence that the coin was abstracted from the money drawer. On his return into the main portion of the saloon Simon discovered his loss and calling a policeman had Menzies and Walworth arrested, Fleming having in the meantime skipped. After hearing all the statements Judge Dement remarked "Step out. If any larceny was committed it was probably by the third man. That's skipped."

The case of Charles Bellegarde charged with drunkenness and vagrancy was continued for trial until Thursday, on motion of attorney Gleason. James Dougherty arrested for fast driving in the City park chose to forfeit $5 bail rather than appear for trial. B Hunger forfeited $10 bail by his failure to answer to a charge of carrying a concealed weapon. He was arrested Sunday afternoon in Gambrinus garden. It cost Ching Tong $3 for throwing broken glass into the street. Carl Steinborn was arraigned for threatening to kill Lizzie Miller, a woman of the town. He denied it, and by request his case was continued until to-day. The Miller woman says Steinborn has threatened her so frequently as to alarm her. The parties have had frequent troubles in the way of law suits etc. Steinborn acknowledged having a revolver in his pocket when arrested, and for this was fined $10.

THE LABOR TROUBLES.

AT CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, May 3—Stone masons throughout the city have demanded that they be put on the eight hours plan. The men engaged on the Garfield monument quit work this morning, and asked the contractor for eight hours and pay at $3 25 per day. He was agreeable to the proposition, and they will return to work to-morrow. The Otis Iron and Steel company, one of the largest establishments in the West, served their employes with circular letters to-day giving forth that ten hours should constitute a day's labor, and that there would be no increase of wages. This was done in conformity with the law that passed the Ohio assembly this winter which provided that eight hours shall constitute a day's work, unless the employer and employe otherwise contract.

AT LOUISVILLE.

LOUISVILLE, May 3—One hundred and fifty workmen at the Davis furniture manufactory struck this morning because their employers would not accede to the demands for the eight-hour system. By agreement all furniture manufacturers will close down to-morrow rather than put the eight hour system in operation.

Martin Irons arrived in this city this morning and was asked what truth there was in the statements to the effect that he (Irons) had been expelled from the Knights of Labor. He replied that there was absolutely no truth in the report.

THE STRIKE AT MILWAUKEE

MILWAUKEE, May 3.—A report has just been received from the West Milwaukee railroad shops that a body of 1500 strikers visited there this afternoon, swarmed into the different shops and forced [illegible]000 men employed there to abandon their work. Particulars cannot be obtained at this hour.

MILWAUKEE Wis., May 3.—One thousand seven hundred employes of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway company's shops at West Milwaukee are out and do not propose to go back until granted eight hours work at ten hours pay.

PRICE OF SUGAR ADVANCED

NEW YORK May [illegible]—The strikes at the Brooklyn sugar refineries had the effect of advancing the price of loaf sugar in this market to [illegible] cent per pound, and the other refined sugars in proportion. Had the strikers succeeded in obtaining the increase of wages they demanded, and had the workmen engaged in the manufacture of material and machinery used in sugar refining obtained a similar increase the price would probably have risen [illegible] of a cent more. In this case refined sugar could have been profitably imported from Europe and the American refineries would have been closed.

A TELEGRAM TO SWINTON

CHICAGO May 1—The following dispatch was sent to-night to John Swinton, New York: "We are securing victory after victory for eight hours a day. To-day the packing houses of the Union stock yards all yielded and in many instances with no reduction in wages. This affects 25 000,[illegible] men who are wild with joy at the grand victory they have gained. We hope to see other cities stand by Chicago. GEORGE A SCHILLING, Chairman of the Eight-Hour Committee of Chicago Trade Assembly."

RIOT AT GRAND RAPIDS

GRAND RAPIDS Mich, May 3—The furniture factories with two exceptions started up this morning with full gangs of men all satisfied with the arrangements. A mob of thirty foreigners, Poles and Germans attempted to force a suspension of labor on the Bridge street grade this morning and had a little scrimmage in which blows were exchanged. The police were called upon and quelled the riot. Four agitators were arrested for inciting the riot, and are now in jail.

AN OUTRAGE FOILED

CHICAGO May 3—Considerable excitement was caused at 1 10 this afternoon in the vicinity of Wabash avenue and River street by the arrival of a crowd of 200 or 300 strikers. They announced their intention of breaking into the tin can manufactory of Morton Bros and tried to force their way in but the doors were barred. The police were telephoned for and a detail arrived at double quick time from the central station. The crowd dispersed and quiet was restored.

A BROKER SUSPENDS

NEW YORK May 3—Tasker Marvin's suspension was announced on the stock exchange this afternoon. Marvin has been an active manipulator of the market for some time past but states that he had no contracts on the floor of the exchange.

HOW TO GET AT CORPORATIONS.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

From all accounts a meteor struck somewhere in [illegible] Washington and as meteors fall in obscure localities, why can't ideas emanate near the [illegible] I hope no one will infer from this that [this] is an obscure locality. But to my idea. The laboring classes are combining against capital for the same rights which capital claims the laborer [illegible] already enjoy Is this so The law [is for] the poor as well as the rich is a favorite [saying] and true. But there is an old cook book [illegible] which says First catch your hare. Now [let the] laborer catch a cotton-tail but how about [catching] a jack rabbit? The laborer when amenable [to law] for having interfered with the rights of [others is] easily found but capital can dodge [illegible], and unless you have a horse (money) [and a dog] and gun (influence) you are liable to [go] hungry for hare.

[But] I know that if congress should pass a law [compelling] all railroads and other corporations to [appoint] some one man in each county in each [state] or territory in which they do business or have [property] other than landed estate, who shall have [authority] to sue and be sued and the name of the [person] so authorized shall be posted in a conspicuous [place] in every business office or waiting room [in] every city town, village or station at which [such] corporation is doing business in said county, [the] principal cause of ill feeling and dissatisfaction [against] the corporations would be removed. Why? [Because] of the innumerable petty acts of injustice [for which] corporations are held responsible for some [illegible], sometimes wrongly that would be [avoided] by having a nucleus responsibility near [at hand] to check the first error that gives a pre[cedent]

An injury received and no opportunity to re[dress it] is magnified by time.

Labor is following the example of capital and re[moving] the seat of responsibility as far as possible [from] the place of action. Concentrating their [forces] until, from being a row among the recruits [it is a] battle between armies. Men suffer on one [side and] none suffers on the other.

Why is it that the Knights of Labor have the sympathy of the middle classes right or wrong? Because there are very few that have not suffered [from] petty loss, injury slight, or neglect causing [it], at the hands of employes of corporations [and] no doubt but the corporation would remedy [it] or indemnify any injury or loss within reason [but] distance and insignificance intervene and the [sense] of loss or injury remains. Short accounts [make] long friends. [illegible]

LAWN TENNIS

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Under a local writer to the SUNDAY ORE[GONIAN] [illegible] that lawn tennis is a game for the [illegible] He most certainly cannot know what he is [talking about]. Possibly his experience is confined [to the] very scratch game that he has seen here [because] as it is properly played calls for the [highest] qualities of quickness and endurance along [with a] good an eye and deft a wrist as billiards [illegible] played game will use up the strongest [illegible] entirely beyond the powers of the sick [illegible] this explanation and wish to see the game [illegible] here and feel sure it only has to be properly known to be very popular as it has [been] everywhere else. "A game for the sick" would [have] been nearer like the truth. JACQUET. [illegible] for the rich was written and a printer's [error] made it "game for the sick." Of course [anybody] who has ever seen a game of tennis knows [that it] is a sport for the strong and yet for the only [illegible]

FAST VOYAGES

PORTLAND, Or., May 18

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Please state in your paper what is the fastest [passage] made between San Francisco and New [York] by any clipper ship on her way and oblige [illegible] A. K.

The fastest passage between San Francisco and New York was made by the Contest—time 80 days, [arrived] in port May 31 1853. The Northern Light [made] the voyage from San Francisco to Boston in [76 days], arriving May 29 1853. The Flying Cloud [made] the fastest voyage from New York to San [Francisco, time], 89 days. This was in 1851.

THE DEMOCRATIC TICKET

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

Everything indicates that the ticket suggested [by "A"] in THE OREGONIAN last week will be [adopted], except in place of Ison Slater will be [named] for congress. Ison is the stronger man but [will] not accept. Suppose the convention forces [him] [illegible] evidently intends to force Shattuck for [governor]. Then Ramsey for judge, Gibbons for [secretary] of state and Hogan for treasurer.

WHAT THINK YE.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENTS

The members of the Ladies Relief society desire [to express] their most sincere thanks to Mr Wisdom [for] [illegible] and dye, and an Easter card for each child [in] the Home. Also to the Golden Rule Bazar for [a box] of toys and three boxes of sundries from [illegible] Clothing & Co. Several bundles of clothing [illegible] were very much appreciated as some [of] the things were especially needed just at that [time]. We are always thankful to the public for [their] gifts for their generous remembrances of our [little] wards.

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

TO BE HAULED OVER THE CASCADES.—The steamer A A McCully was taken to the Cascades last Monday and is now lying at the foot of the locks at what is known as the Jumping Off Place. When the water rises an attempt will be made to haul the McCully up over the falls to the middle Columbia. Our informant says the modus operandi will be to splice three lines together into one line, which will then be 300 fathoms in length. One end will then be attached to trees on an island in the upper river to the other end several barrels will be attached so as to carry it with the current over the falls and down into the lower river. Here it will be picked up and attached to a steam capstan on the McCully. By winding the line around the capstan as it revolves, it is thought the steamer can be safely hauled up over the falls into the upper Columbia. Should the attempt prove successful the McCully will be the first steamer ever raised over the falls.

DECLARED INSANE.—On the arrival of the O R & N Co's train from the East yesterday a young man named A S Hawkins was turned over to a policeman as insane. Hawkins made it lively for the railroad officials all the way from Pendleton and afterwards for the authorities here on his arrival. He locked himself up in the county court room immediately on being turned in there, and for awhile had things all his own way. He was finally quieted and secured, and on an examination was ordered committed to the asylum. Hawkins is 32 years of age and when at home belongs in Hannibal, Missouri. He is a salesman by occupation and has worked here and at The Dalles. In 1881 he was sent to the Oregon asylum and a year or so afterwards was discharged as cured. Since that time Hawkins has been in the California asylum. He was taken to Salem yesterday afternoon.

SOUVENIR PROGRAMMES.—We have seen the souvenir programmes issued by the managers of "The Princess" entertainment to be given for the first time next Friday evening. In their lavender and gold dress they are beautiful in themselves and their contents are literary gems with extracts from the medley itself, and also full cast of characters, with a sketch of the story accompanying each act. We note many familiar names among the actors and feel like congratulating them upon the pleasure they are receiving, as well as giving to the public in this "new departure" in school work. These programmes will be of great aid to those not familiar with the text of Tennyson's "Princess," and may be preserved or sent to friends as mementoes of the entertainment.

THE DISABLED STEAMER.—Yesterday the Willamette Iron works began repairing the broken shaft of the steamship State of California. The break is longitudinal, is thirty inches long and has spread about two inches. It is believed that with bands and bolt the broken parts can be drawn well together and the shaft be made strong enough to undertake the passage to San Francisco where permanent repairs will be made. The State will probably not be able to leave before next Saturday and she will carry no passengers. The next steamer down on which the public can travel is the Columbia which left San Francisco to-day.

NO GOOD FISHING YET.—A great many fishermen have been out during the past few days to various streams and lakes, and there is a general complaint of poor luck. The late heavy rains swelled the streams and they have not run down yet and the fishing is really not so good now as it was three weeks or a month ago. There has been scarcely any fly fishing done yet. A pretty fair killing made by Millard Lownsdale at Gale creek is about the only successful fly fishing reported in this neighborhood. The only consolation in the matter is that what is bad for the fisherman is good for the trout.

THE FARMINGTON BRANCH.—The O R & N Co have decided to begin construction of the branch from Colfax to Farmington W T without delay. It is a little over thirty miles long and will cost in the neighborhood of $16,000 a mile. No decision has yet been reached as to whether the grading will be done by contract or not, but most likely the company will do the work and active operations will begin next week. The permanent survey was made some time since, and most of the right of way has been secured. Four or five months will be required to finish the line.

FINE SCENIC DISPLAY.—Scenes in the palace in the Princess garden and in the pavilion, make beautiful tableaux in the entertainment to be given by the High school scholars on Friday evening. Sixty girls in university gowns of lilac and gold recite the Bugle Song. Women of the Plow in pleasant dress appear. Home they brought our warrior dead, one of the finest songs in our language is given by one of the university maidens. Music between acts is of a high order. Tickets on sale or at the door, 50 cents.

HOW DID HE FIND OUT.—The Chinaman Sin Hock who inflicted a fearful wound on the head of one of his countrywomen a few weeks since and against whom a true bill was found by the grand jury, went south on the east side road yesterday ticketed to Yreka Cal. It would be interesting to know why that Chinaman was not arrested, and how he came to know that he had been indicted and why he was allowed to skip out. Some strange things happen in criminal matters now-a-days.

INJURED BY LIFTING.—On Wednesday evening, last Dr A S Nichols while assisting in moving the safe in his office sustained a severe sprain of the abdomen. No serious results were apprehended at the time but on the following morning severe pain and vomiting set in followed by inflammation attended by intense suffering day and night. His physicians considered the probability of his recovery more favorable yesterday, and it is hoped that with good care the doctor may soon be around again.

RETURNED FROM ABROAD.—Sailor boarding housekeeper Capt Bell has returned to Portland after an absence of some twenty months in foreign climes. While away Bell sailed as mate of several vessels and although he took in Hong Kong during his travels escaped being shanghaied. It is said the captain returned to break up the monopoly that has existed here for some time in the business and he promises to make it lively. Nothing like enterprise.

RUNAWAY LAD RETURNED.—Sheriff Jordan returned from Astoria yesterday, bringing with him David Gray the young lad who set fire to the International hotel. Gray was saved from going to the penitentiary through the influence of the Boys and Girls Aid society. They provided him with a home but he rewarded their efforts in his behalf by running away. Just what will be done with him now is a question yet to be determined.

CONVENIENCE TO OARSMEN.—Last summer an electric lamp was hung out from the upper story of the works of the Electric Lighting company which was found to be a great convenience to parties boating on the river in the evening. During the winter it was removed but at the request of boating men Mr Morey has again placed it in position. The favor will be appreciated by all boating on the river in the evening.

TABLES FOR THE PARK.—There was some complaint last summer from parties visiting the city park on account of the scarcity of tables there on which account picnic parties often had to spread their lunch on the ground. The park keeper has secured lumber for about twenty tables which he will put up as soon as possible. Parties visiting the park after taking their luncheon along will find the tables a great convenience.

BOYS AND GIRLS AID SOCIETY.—The annual meeting of the Boys and Girls Aid Society will be held in the [illegible] chambers. Election of three trustees and officers for the ensuing year, reading reports of retiring officers and other important business will come before the meeting.

KILLED BY INDIANS.

Word has been received at Spokane Falls of the killing near the Colville mines of James Rusk a prospector. Last Thursday Rusk started for the mines with a saddle and pack horse and a first class outfit. Next day the horses turned up at Pasture five miles from Spokane and Rusk's family learning of this fact sounded an alarm. On Friday morning officers Joe Warren and E M. Pound went in search and returned Saturday bringing no news of him.

Saturday night the citizens of Spokane met and twenty-eight volunteered to go in search, and a fund was raised for expenses. They elected Geo T Crane commander of the searching party. Sunday morning at 7 o'clock the party started. Nine miles from town, on Dead Man's creek, they found where Rusk had camped, the camp being recognized by an acquaintance from the peculiar arrangement of the camp stick. Twenty rods from this place, with his face in the water and a rifle ball through his head, they found the dead body of Rusk.

One of his pockets was rifled and the packs, saddle and halters gone. The other pocket contained $172 and his watch which had stopped at 12 minutes to 8 P M from the water filling it. Apparently he had been killed at the camp fire and carried to the place where the body was found. Numerous moccasin tracks in the vicinity pointed to Indians, though many believe they were white men. There was no other clue. The body was brought to Spokane Falls, where an inquest was held and a verdict of death by an unknown murderer given.

The citizens organized a search party for the murderers who are thought to be Calispel Indians, and the commander at Fort Coeur d'Alene has been requested to send a detachment of cavalry with officers.

Rusk was a middle-aged man and leaves a wife and seven children in a poor condition.

THE PROPOSED NEW ASSESSMENT LAW

LAFAYETTE, Oregon April 30 1886

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN.

I have carefully examined the new assessment law, as reported by the tax commissioners and believe that it is, in the main a good law and founded upon correct principles, and should be adopted at our next legislature with, perhaps, some slight alterations. It is a great improvement upon the present law which has failed in a great degree to answer the purpose for which it was designed. The provision for taxing railroad companies, insurance, telegraph, telephone and sleeping-car companies on their gross earnings is a wise provision and has generally given satisfaction to both the state and these companies wherever adopted. The reasons given by the members of the commission for this law are well stated, and worthy of careful consideration.

The provision allowing deduction of indebtedness to the extent of credits only is almost a necessity, owing to the alarming increase of fraudulent deductions on account of indebtedness. If the increase of indebtedness goes on as it has during the last five years it will be but a short time till it will equal all the taxable property within the state.

Wisconsin, under a similar constitution tried the same law we now have in regard to deduction of indebtedness, but in a few years was forced to do away with it and restrict the deduction of indebtedness to the amount of credits, which is the law in that state at the present time. Deduction of fraudulent indebtedness is the great evil that the legislature has to deal with, and unless some provision is made by which this evil is corrected or restricted the entire law will be a failure. It would seem that the remedy proposed is the best under the circumstances that can be enacted.

The provision requiring owners to make maps and plats of their land when divided into irregular shape will in many cases work a hardship upon such owners. A large part of the land in Oregon was taken under the donation law and in an irregular shape, and this law requires all such owners to survey and plat the land at their own expense for the use of the county. Just why a man who is so unfortunate as to own a farm of irregular shape should be compelled to pay for the survey and plats whilst his neighbor who is fortunate enough to own a farm of regular shape is excused, and the expense in his case paid by the county, is not apparent at least at first sight. The expense in these cases will be considerable, and ought to be paid by the state and county.

There ought to be a provision providing that the payment of a mortgage debt and the cancellation of a mortgage shall be null and void as against the lien of all taxes assessed against said mortgage and as against the purchaser of any such debt or mortgage at sheriff's sale on a warrant to collect delinquent taxes. As the law now is, a man can cancel his mortgage at any time and it is very doubtful as to what effect it would have in case of a sale of the mortgage at least no one would care to bid much for a mortgage that had been canceled, without some such provision as above indicated.

Section 41 provides that the board of equalization shall not increase the valuation of taxable property without three days notice being given to the owner. And section 53 provides that the state board of equalization may equalize the property as returned by the county by adding to the aggregate assessed value thereof or in other words by increasing the valuation and also that it shall be the duty of the secretary of state to report the action of the state board to the several county clerks within five days after the adjournment of said board. There is no provision in regard to notice when the state board increases the valuation of property but there is a provision that the county board shall not increase without notice, and the question is would the action of the state board in increasing the valuation without notice to those interested be valid or binding upon them. In case notice should be deemed essential the law ought to provide for constructive notice by publication as it would be impossible to serve notice upon each individual taxpayer in a county.

The law ought to define more distinctly the action of the county courts or clerks on receipt of the report of the state board of equalization in regard to their action or duties on receiving said report and what should be done with the assessment roll to conform to the actions of the state board.

Section 103 provides that if tax collectors discover property not assessed they shall assess the same etc. There is no provision for notice to the taxpayer in these cases, or for equalizing or correcting the assessment made by the tax collector. This is a similar provision to that now in force in regard to assessments by the sheriff, and Judge Deady in one of the tax cases from this county held the law void on the ground that there was no provision for notice to the party assessed, or for equalizing and correcting the assessment and that appears to be the law. Some notice to the party assessed, and opportunity for correction should be provided in these cases to make the assessment valid.

There ought to be a section added providing for a suit in the name of the county or state against any party who has fraudulently concealed his property or failed or neglected to give a true list of the same to the assessor for the purpose of avoiding the payment of taxes to recover the amount of any taxes justly due from him to the state or county. As the law now stands no suit can be maintained for the fraud ever so great and flagrant and if a party can elude the assessor and tax collector (and many do this) there is no remedy. I know of persons in this county who for years concealed their property, some of which was discovered and taxed for that year but no remedy being provided all the taxes that should have been paid in years past were lost. Many states have a provision of this kind and it is found to work well.

The sections providing for district assessors is a necessary provision under the law requiring the assessor to commence the assessment on the first Monday in April and to complete it by the 15th of May following as it is not possible for him to do this alone within that time. As the law now stands he is required to commence on the first Monday in March and to complete it on the first Monday in September and the assessor in this county has never, for several years been able to complete his work within the time and it would be an utter impossibility for him to do the work between April and the 15th day of May. This county could be divided into three districts and the county assessor with two deputies acting under him not independently could make a more complete and satisfactory assessment than it is possible for the assessor alone to do and within the time prescribed. It is a well known fact that quite a considerable amount of property escapes the assessor on account of a lack of information in regard to people and their property, and it is fair to presume that the district assessors would be more familiar with these matters in his respective district than the assessor could possibly be within the boundaries of the county. If the district assessors are under the control of the assessor or are his deputies there would be little danger of a difference in valuations in the different districts.

I am quite anxious to see as good a tax law as possible enacted hence I call attention to these matters for public discussion. H

THE CASINO.

MISS GODFREY'S BENEFIT TO-NIGHT.—As the season of the Thompson opera company at the Casino draws to a close, a series of benefits is in order, and to-night Miss Carrie Godfrey will have the first one. She has by all odds the finest voice and the best vocalization of any of the company and the fact that she is quite as much as Miss Belle Dubois a Portland girl, should crowd the house with the elite of the city. Miss Godfrey is not a great actress but she is truly a magnificent vocalist and her efforts to please in all the characters she has assumed and some of them were secondary ones have been so earnest as to merit the appreciation of all fair-minded people. The programme for to-night is an excellent one embracing as it does one act of "Iolanthe" and one of "The Merry War" while between the acts a grand concert programme has been arranged, in which Miss Hall, Mr Branson and Mr Murray assist the beneficiary, whose selection will be the prayer and waltz from "Falka." Miss Godfrey richly deserves a full house, and from present indications she will have it.

James M Bloomfield appellant vs. Isaac W Buchanan, respondent; motion to change decree argued and submitted.

Sudden Changes.

If the body receives daily a proper amount of nutrition and daily expels the worn-out parts, health is the certain consequence, but by a sudden change of weather the pores of the skin may not perform their office well, and matters are retained which should have passed off by that avenue. All causes which impede insensible perspiration are fraught with danger, because matters which should have passed away through the skin are returned again into circulation. Brandreth's Pills will remove all impurities, from whatever cause they may come, curing pain, inflammation and colds arising from these causes in a few hours.

George Wager fined $25, February 11 in the police court for allowing G. Jackson, F H Anderson and Willie Hoyt, minors to frequent his saloon on First street between Clay and Columbia, has appealed the case to the state circuit court.

J M Gilman has appealed from a judgment given against him in Justice Bybee's court in favor of W C Drugan for $4 February 27.

W A Jacobs took judgment by default against C. H. Cole in Justice White's court for $16 50 and $10 65 costs. Cole alleges it to be unjust and has filed a writ of review in the state circuit court.

POLICE COURT

The only case of interest examined into in the police court yesterday was that of Robert Menzies and J C Walworth, accused of tapping the till of Albert Simon a Front street saloon keeper, to the extent of $5 Sunday afternoon. Menzies, Walworth and a fellow named Robert Fleming entered Simon's place and drank some beer. During their sojourn Simon had occasion to wait on a customer in one of the private rooms, and it was during his absence that the coin was abstracted from the money drawer. On his return into the main portion of the saloon Simon discovered his loss and calling a policeman had Menzies and Walworth arrested. Fleming having in the meantime skipped. After hearing all the statements Judge Hennert remarked "I open out. If any larceny was committed it was probably by the third man. They stepped."

The case of Charles Bellegarde, charged with drunkenness and vagrancy, was continued for trial until Thursday on motion of attorney Gleason. James Dougherty arrested for fast driving in the City, chose to forfeit $5 bail rather than appear for trial. B Hunger forfeited $10 bail by his failure to answer to a charge of carrying a concealed weapon. He was arrested Sunday afternoon in Gambrinus garden. It cost Ching Tong $5 for throwing broken glass into the street. Carl Steinborn was arraigned for threatening to kill Lizzie Miller, a woman of the town. He denied it, and by request his case was continued until to-day. The Miller woman says Steinborn has threatened her so frequently as to alarm her. The parties have had frequent troubles in the way of law suits, etc. Steinborn acknowledged having a revolver in his pocket when arrested and for this was fined $10.

AT CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, May 3.—Stone masons throughout the city have demanded that they be put on the eight-hours plan. The men engaged on the Garfield monument quit work this morning and asked the contractor for eight hours and pay at $3 25 per day. He was agreeable to the proposition, and they will return to work to-morrow. The Otis Iron and Steel company, one of the largest establishments in the West, served their employes with circular letters to-day, giving forth that ten hours should constitute a day's labor, and that there would be no increase of wages. This was done in conformity with the law that passed the Ohio assembly this winter which provided that eight hours shall constitute a day's work, unless the employer and employe otherwise contract.

AT LOUISVILLE.

LOUISVILLE May 3.—One hundred and fifty workmen at the Davis furniture manufactory struck this morning because their employers would not accede to the demands for the eight hour system. By agreement all furniture manufacturers will close down to-morrow rather than put the eight hour system in operation.

Martin Irons arrived in this city this morning and was asked what truth there was in the statement to the effect that he (Irons) had been expelled from the Knights of Labor. He replied that there was absolutely no truth in the report.

THE STRIKE AT MILWAUKEE

MILWAUKEE May 3.—A report has just been received from the West Milwaukee railroad shops that a body of 1500 strikers visited there this afternoon, swarmed into the different shops and forced 800 men employed there to abandon their work. Particulars cannot be obtained at this hour.

MILWAUKEE Wis May 3.—One thousand seven hundred employes of the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railway company's shops at West Milwaukee are out, and do not propose to go back until granted eight hours work at ten hours pay.

PRICE OF SUGAR ADVANCED

NEW YORK May 3.—The strikes at the Brooklyn sugar refineries had the effect of advancing the price of loaf sugar in this market to ⅛ cents per pound, and the other refined sugars in proportion. Had the strikers succeeded in obtaining the increase of wages they demanded and had the workmen engaged in the manufacture of material and machinery used in sugar refining obtained similar increase the price would probably have risen ¾ of a cent more. In this case refined sugar could have been profitably imported from Europe and the American refineries would have been closed.

A TELEGRAM TO SWINTON

CHICAGO May 1.—The following dispatch was sent to-night to John Swinton, New York: We are securing victory after victory for eight hours a day. To-day the packing houses of the Union Stock yards all yielded, and in many instances with no reduction in wages. This affects 20,000,000 men who are wild with joy at the grand victory they have gained. We hope to see other cities stand by Chicago. GEORGE A. SCHILLING, Chairman of the Eight-Hour Committee of Chicago Trade Assembly.

RIOT AT GRAND RAPIDS

GRAND RAPIDS Mich. May 3.—The furniture factories with two exceptions, started up this morning with full gangs of men, all satisfied with the arrangements. A mob of fifty foreigners, Poles and Germans attempted to force a suspension of labor on the Bridge street grade this morning and had a little scrimmage in which blows were exchanged. The police were called upon and quelled the riot. Four agitators were arrested for inciting the riot, and are now in jail.

AN OUTRAGE FOILED.

CHICAGO May 3.—Considerable excitement was caused at 4 o'clock this afternoon in the vicinity of Wabash avenue and River street by the arrival of a crowd of 200 or 300 strikers. They announced their intention of breaking into the tin can manufactory of Morton Bros. and tried to force their way in but the doors were barred. The police were telephoned for and a detail arrived at double-quick time from the central station. The crowd dispersed and quiet was restored.

A BROKER SUSPENDS.

NEW YORK, May 3.—Tasker Marvin's suspension was announced on the stock exchange this afternoon. Marvin has been an active manipulator of the market for some time past, but stated that he had no contracts on the floor of the exchange.

RING RULE

SALEM May [illegible]

To THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN

I desire to suggest an aid to the removal of ring rule from the two great parties in this state. Such an aid would be the holding of the state conventions at other places than Portland. They are nearly always held in Portland where the rings of both parties predominate and where the ring leaders can bring to bear on the country delegates the whole force of their local strength to assist in carrying out their cabalistic schemes. Portland is the headquarters of the ring and the place where its strength is greatest and can be most effectually applied. Hence, to escape the influence of the ring, state political conventions should be divorced from Portland and held at other convenient points where the ring influence would very likely be [illegible] counterbalanced by outside opinion averse to its dictation and opposed to it from principle.

This question will apply as well to the democratic as to the republican party since there is [illegible] to be no doubt that there is a democratic ring in Portland which when necessary acts in conjunction with the republican ring for the promotion of their joint interests. Blaine in his Twenty years in Congress emphasizes the effect of local influence on political conventions when he says that there is no doubt that if the republican convention of 1860 had been held in Albany N Y Seward, and not Lincoln would have been nominated for president. The ring managers in this state, knowing the power of this influence have shown great astuteness in securing the selection of Portland as the place for holding conventions. They have been enabled to do this because of Portland s favorable situation and its commercial advantages which afford country delegates an opportunity to transact some perhaps urgent business at the metropolis while attending the convention but these advantages are too dear at the price of domination by the managers of the ring and must be sacrificed for the sake of an honest deal at the convention and a ticket which will meet the approval of the people.

A DEMOCRAT

Up, Not Down

To undersell others seems to be the great aim of some. To do this they make inferior goods. In the shoe trade it is done as in others. Hanan & Son are constantly trying to improve their shoe knowing that its present widespread popularity comes from its being the very best that skill and honesty can produce. REDDING S RUSSIA SALVE has wonderful healing power over all Flesh Wounds, Sore Joints &

MONDAY, May 3

Weather "more like summer" as the English report says. Although the noon weather report from this section included mention of winds from all quarters there is every indication of settled weather.

Overland receipts include car buggies car windmills 5 cs confectionery 280 sks sulphur [illegible] rls barbed wire [illegible] cs cigars [illegible] pkgs raw wagon material 7 bxs [illegible] bdls chair stock [illegible] cs boots and shoes 42 pkgs 25 bxs axes, 60 butts 60 pls tobacco 9 bxs handles, 1[illegible] organs, 2 pianos, 8 [illegible] 25 bxs codfish, 6 tcs lard 700 [illegible] candles

The figures showing the valuation of agricultural and manufactured products in nine months past, presented in this column on Monday record a gratifying increase over any similar time in the history of the export trade hence. As compared with the nine months ended with April 1885, there has been an increased exportation equal to $2 [illegible],938 and for a similar time in two preceding seasons the increase is very nearly $2 000 000. While wheat flour and the lesser cereals have done the greater part toward this increase our manufactured products cut no small figure when it is remembered that there has been a decided decrease in the value of salmon sent out. In making up these statements of exports much that should properly be included is necessarily omitted. As an instance there has been shipped by rail [illegible] this side of the Missouri river a large quantity of lumber a lesser quantity being distributed in sections closer by. Again there is one part of the coasting trade that must be omitted because of the impracticability of securing anything like fair figures concerning it. Had values in the past nine months been of the importance they were a few years ago the showing would be still more gratifying. As they are they exhibit a very fair basis of comparison telling as they do of the increasing capabilities of this section. While producers have realized less for their growths they have paid less for imported goods so the lessened values are not so keenly felt as they otherwise would be. To San Francisco has been shipped a considerable quantity of [illegible] manufactured articles [illegible] cordage [illegible] hollow ware and woolen goods enter largely into the list and go to swell the figures. Barley material baled wool and hides [illegible] fruit and provisions enter as part [illegible] manufactured products a small amount of money [illegible] expended at home in preparing these articles for export. The remaining three months of the cereal year should be of enough importance to make a valued exportation close up to $10 000 000 as there yet remains to be shipped a liberal [illegible] of cereals and the heaviest period of salmon and wool exportation is to pass.

WHEAT—Foreign markets firm with no off-coast offerings of cargoes. New York and Chicago both close below Saturday s closings. Local influences affect those markets and there is little doubt but the strikes have some influence. San Francisco has quieted down since Saturday. Locally the market may be called firm. Offerings are light, and shippers have new tonnage to load. They have much of it provided for, probably the most of it, but as other demands will be along soon and freights promise new weakness the tone to wheat is improved. Values are not quotably changed.

OATS—If stocks amount to anything more than day to day needs they are not well distributed, and some dealers with orders to-day could not fill them. Values are firm and possibly looking up.

BUTTER—Fair supplies of local with small arrivals of California.

EGGS—Stocks again down to a good working margin and 12½c is had all along to-day.

CHICKENS—Quiet with only the usual trade doing, at old prices.

WOOL—Coming forward with more freedom but the market is quite inactive. A fair grade sold at 16c.

MARKETS BY TELEGRAPH

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK May 3—Governments dull and steady. Stocks much more active but trading was at the expense of prices. At the opening there was little change from Saturday s closing, and in some cases slight advances were made in the first few minutes but this was followed by a decided break among the most active stocks, which continued until after 11 o clock. From that time until 1 o clock the market was more quiet and prices comparatively steady. A renewed weakness developed later and the movement during the remainder of the afternoon was decidedly irregular but activity and weakness went together. The active stocks were, as a rule also weaker, Lackawanna declined 1 per cent, St. Paul 1⅝ Northwestern 1 and Omaha [illegible]. The market closed generally weak, but slightly better than the lowest figures of the day.

NEW YORK April 3—The Mail and Express says: Mining shares were dull. Hale & Norcross $2 30 Yellow Jacket [illegible]0 Sutro 11@1[illegible] Bodie $1 25 Navajo 43 California & Virginia $1 45,

AFTER DINNER.

Persons who suffer from Indigestion can arrest the progress of that painful malady by the use of an after-dinner pill, so composed that it will give tone to the stomach, prevent heartburn rouse the liver to healthful action, invigorate the kidneys, and thus, through the activity of these organs, promote the natural movement of the stomach and bowels. AYER S PILLS are so compounded that their action, though mild, effectually produces the above results. They also in curing Constipation, remove the cause of Biliousness, Liver Complaint, Kidney Disease, Rheumatism, and many other serious ailments.

AYER'S PILLS

contain no mineral nor poisonous substance, and do not gripe unless the bowels are irritated, and even then their influence is healing. To continue their effect in constipated or chronic cases, they need only be taken in diminishing instead of increasing doses. For seamen, and inhabitants or travelers in sparsely settled countries where physicians are not at hand, they are of inestimable value. There is hardly a sickness they will not alleviate and in most cases cure, if taken promptly. To young girls just entering upon womanhood, and to women whose period of maternity is drawing to a close, AYER S PILLS, in moderate doses, merely sufficient to ensure regular action of the bowels, will be found of Incalculable Value.
